DEPARTMENT OF LAW

Value Added Course on Research Methodology on Legal Skills and Communication

(15th January- 26th February 2019)

Timings: 2:30 PM-4:30 PM

Introduction

In a general sense research means diligent inquiry and careful search for new knowledge or contribution to an existing body of knowledge. In other words a research is an organized set of activities to study and develop a model, procedure and technique to find the results of a realistic problem supported by literature and data such that its objectives are optimized and further make recommendations for implication. Research methodology refers to a system of models, procedures and techniques used to find the result of a research problem. These processes are essential to learn by a prospective researcher. Often without training in methods, essays based on perceptions and quotations are passed as research particularly in nonacademic contexts. Needless to say, such research does not reach beyond a certain level. Training in research methodology provides development professionals with explanation and demonstration of main theories and techniques in research methods. Using these techniques is the first step towards developing a sound researcher. Keeping in view the importance of research methodology, the Refresher Course is contemplated with an
