Mein Bhi Anchor –News Anchoring Competition

(September 08, 2017)

In career as news anchor, individuals are the faces of the channel and the field reporters too, who gathers the news for them. News is something which can make us understand what is going on in our society. We are sometimes unaware of the fact or the event that happened in the country. But because of the news channels now we get all the news of every corner of the country within a blink of an eye. If we talk about a news channel then we must mention the backbone of the news channels. Many students of Journalism and Mass Communication aspire to become a news anchor. In the era of fake and paid news, you can make a major difference by honest and unbiased reporting.

In view of this, the Department of Journalism and Mass Communication organized a News Anchoring Competition on September 08, 2017. Sh. Prafulla Ketkar, editor of Organiser, Ms Tejasvi Chandok Nayyar, TV anchor & journalist and Mr. Neeraj Rajput, Senior Special Correspondent of ABP News graced the students with their presence to judge the students on their anchoring skills. Apart from the judgment, the dignitaries also shared their valuable experiences on nuances of broadcasting media with the BJMC students. The competition with 58 students from all 3 years of journalism department was full of lively interaction, enthusiasm and provided valuable lessons in practical aspects of news anchoring reporting to students of journalism.
