Swami Vivekananda Jayanti Celebration

(January 12, 2018)

MAIMS celebrated Swami Vivekanand 155th Birth Centenary on 12th January, 2018. Dr. N. K. Garg and Prof. M.K Bhat graced the occasion. The Founder Chairman and the Institute's Director garlanded the photo of Swami Vivekananda and addressed the gathering. A short movie which beautifully depicted the lives of Swami Vivekanand was shown to the faculty and students. Dr. N. K. Garg inaugurated the event and spoke about this great man who relentlessly tried to set Indian society free from many evils. He asked the youth to study the works of Swami Vivekananda, understand his ideals and follow them. Swami Vivekananda laid stress on developing empathy as the foundation of a spiritual order. "That should guide all our lives," he said. He not only understood Indian spiritualism deeply but also interpreted it in a simple and modern language so that people around the world can understand it. And, all this was achieved in his short life, he said.

Prof. M. K. Bhat too addressed the students and tried to instill feelings of self-respect, pride and honour amongst them. He urged the youth to take inspiration from the life of Swami Vivekananda. "You need to understand that your effective and constructive participation in society can change the nation," he added. The learnings of the event were acknowledged by all the participants.

Certificates were given to 17 students who were involved in organizing the entire event. A total of 56 faculty were present in the event.
