from Chief Guest Prof. (Dr.) Fukunari Kimura, Chief Economist, ERIA, Jakarta & Prof., Faculty of Economics, Keio University, Japan. He talked about supply chains during covid -19 and beyond. He further claimed that India has advantage in digital services and should take benefit out of it for economic growth and development of the world as a whole. Inaugural session came to an end with the address of Dr. Sanjay Kumar Mangla, Faculty, Entrepreneurship Development Institute of India, Ahmedabad. In his address he thanked all the dignitaries and participants to contribute to conference in one or the other way. He showed the willingness of all partners to organize another offline event under APAC EIF 2022 in the near future.

The inaugural session was followed by two panel discussions comprising of renowned academicians and policy makers to discuss this issue from various different aspects. Under the limitation of this pandemic and lockdown, we managed to get four prominent speakers along with one moderator in both the panels. In the first panel, we had Dr. Prabir De, Professor, Research and Information System, India; Prof. Faisal Ahmed, Professor, Fore School of Management, Delhi, India; Prof. Shandre Thangavelu, Regional Director, Southeast Asia, CIEs, Institute for International Trade, The University of Adelaide; and Dr. Jayant Menon, Senior Fellow, Regional Economic Studies Programme, ISEAS-Yusof Ishak Institute, Singapore and former Lead Economist in the Office of the Chief Economist, ADB along with Dr. Sanjay Kumar Mangla, Faculty, Entrepreneurship Development Institute of India, Ahmedabad as moderator of the panel discussion. The topic of the panel was 'From Multilateralism to Regionalism to Bilateralism in context of A-Pac'. I was discussed that multilateral world is facing big risks and uncertainties but regional and bilateral trade agreements cannot be an alternative to multilateral organizations. Thus mega regionalism is dominating and have a great significance.

In the second panel, we were privileged to have Prof Hal Hill, H.W. Arndt Professor Emeritus of Southeast Asian Economies, Crawford School of Public Policy, ANU and President of East Asian Economic Association (EAEA); Prof. Sakon Varanyuwatana, Chairperson of the Trade Competition Commission and Former Dean, Faculty of Economics, Thammasat University; Professor Xuan-Vinh Vo, Dean of the Institute of Business Research, University of Economics, Ho Chi Minh City; and Dr. Cassey Lee, Senior Fellow and Coordinator, Regional Economic Studies Programme, ISEAS-Yusof Ishak Institute, Singapore along with Dr. Juthathip Jongwanich, Associate Professor, Thammasat University, Thailand & Editor, Thailand and the World Economy as the moderator of the panel discussion. The topic of this panel discussion was 'Fears of Deglobalization: Responses and Challenges for ASEAN and beyond'. In this, the experts discussed about the position of ASEAN countries in deglobalization and at which side these countries should be. With this, the first day of the

One Week Workshop on Methodology of Taxation, it's Logicality and Fairness Under the Aegis of IQAC October 11, 2021- October 18, 2021 Zoom Meet Link: https://meet.google.com/pvz-epup-bcb

REPORT

Date: October 11-18, 2021 No. of Participants: 63 Resource Person: Ms. Shagun Matta, Advocate, Supreme Court, Delhi, Ms. Aashna Cajla, , Chartered Accountant at Cajla & Associates, Chandigarh, Mr Amar Rai, CA, the Partner in CA firms: Sunder Sharma Co. and Gupta Rai & Associates, Mr. Sanjay Malhotra (CS, CFA, Cost & ManagementAccounting), Advocate Rakesh Cajla, President, Patiala Tax Bar Association, Dr. Brindpreet Kaur, M.A., Mphil., Ph.D., A.P. at RGNUL, Punjab

"Opportunities don't happen. You create them." -- Chris Grosser

The taxation system in India is such that the taxes are levied by the Central Government and the State Governments. Some minor taxes are also levied by the local authorities such as the Municipality and the Local Governments.

Over the last few years, the Central and many State Governments have undertaken various policy reforms and process simplification towards great predictability, fairness, and automation. This has consequently led to India's meteoric rise to the top 100 in the World Bank's Ease of Doing Business (EoDB) ranking in 2020. The Goods & Services Tax (GST) reform is one such reform to ease the complex multiple indirect tax regime in India. Understanding taxes greatly reduces the likelihood of making mistakes of ignorance. Also, having a good basic knowledge helps not only in avoiding difficulties, but also in avoiding missing deductions. In the same endeavor, to facilitate and prepare the students, MAIMS invited experts to conduct One-week Workshop on "Methodology of Taxation, its logicality and fairness". The workshop was held in association with PCJ School of Management, Maharaja Agrasen University, Baddi, Himachal Pradesh and in collaboration with Patiala Tax Bar Association.

Along with faculty members, a total of 63 participants were registered for the event.

Day 1: October 11, 2021

The inaugural event began with the enchantment of Saraswati Vandana to invoke the blessings of Goddess Saraswati. Dr. Charu Mohla (Associate Professor & Workshop Convener) gave the welcome address. Prof. (Dr.) V.K Khurana (HOD-Business Administration and Coordinator, IQAC), was requested to give the Introductory Remarks. Prof. (Dr.) Ravi Kumar Gupta (Director, MAIMS)

Date: Thursday, 29 July 2021 to Wednesday, 4 August 2021 Resource Persons Session 1: Prof.(Dr.) Manoj Kumar Sinha Session 2: Prof. (Dr.) Amar Pal Singh Session 3: Prof. Irene Calboli Session 4: Dr. Alka Chawla Number of Participants: 74

A Faculty Development Program was organized by the Department of Law, Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Management Studies from 29th July 2021 to 4th August 2021. The theme of the FDP was "Changing Aspects of Law and Teaching Pedagogy in Contemporary India". Its purpose was not just to facilitate upgradation of Knowledge and skills in research in law but also to help participants stay motivated and updated about the diverse teaching methods developed during the and due to the pandemic situation. A total of sixteen sessions were conducted by academicians and experts of repute in their fields. The topics covered ranged from Research methodology to Emerging Learnings in Criminal Law, IPR .

The resource person of the first session was Prof.(Dr.) Manoj Kumar Sinha who is the Director of the Indian law Institute, New Delhi and the topic was "Outcome Based Pedagogy in Research". Prof. Sinha has also served as the Professor of Law in West Bengal National University of Juridical Sciences, Kolkata. Prof. Sinha has done his Ph.D. in International Law from Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi, LL.M. from University of Nottingham, and LL.B. from University of Delhi.

Session I

The session started on the virtual platform Zoom where the esteemed speaker was welcomed by the Faculty Coordinator - Dr. Anuradha Asthana. There were over 74 participants belonging to varied backgrounds ranging from students to research scholars to academicians to lawyers etc. Prof. (Dr.) Manoj Kumar Sinha emphasized the significance of 'Outcome' in research Methodology. Prof. Sinha explained that it is essential to identify what is the attainable goal or in simpler terms what the researcher wishes to achieve by conducting the said research. He enlightened the participants by giving the example of the Nirbhaya Case where one of the boys who was involved in the gruesome crime was released in 2015 and various stakeholders, institutes i.e. governmental and non- governmental organizations etc. raised grave concerns that there exists a "gap" in the said law and it needs to be modified. Sir also highlighted the present scenario and the development of the vaccine i.e. the outcome that was necessary in order to curb and arrest the spread of the COVID-19 is the vaccine. According to Prof. Sinha 'outcome' should be applied simultaneously in research as well asin teaching i.e. to say that teaching and research are interlinked with each other and the more ateacher conducts research, the better can be their style. Prof. Sinha deliberated on various approaches of research which can be adopted to achieve the 'defined goal' and was of the firmopinion that research should not be seen in isolation. The focus of the research should bethat there must be contribution in the form of outcome in the existing knowledge. The outcome must be the immediate solution to the problem. According to Prof. Sinha, the 'inquisitiveness' of the researcher can help them reach the desired goal and they shouldalways have the quest for knowledge and should always be 'investigating'.

Prof. Sinha also discussed that Public Interest Litigation has addressed various issues that were raised by the citizens due to the gaps that exist in the society that have been thoroughly researched by the people. PIL is also known as Social Action Litigation and has served the purpose of an 'outcome' as different issues like – bonded labor, environmental concerns, conditions of prisons etc. were dealt by PIL which has led to a fruitful outcome and has introduced various changes in the legal system. Two indispensable aspects which are important to conduct research effectively are first, the Inquisitiveness and Openness of the researcher.

The second aspect includes the ability to inquire and investigate research problems efficiently to reach the outcome. Sir also emphasized that the research title should be self-explanatory and should be clear and precise. The research questions should be linked with the research problems and the research should also provide the solutions and suggestions to the proposed problem. The session was open to questions by the participants after Prof. Sinha comprehensively explained the Outcome Based Pedagogy in research and gave wider insights into the topic. Sir systematically addressed the questions raised by the participants. The session came to an end after the question-answer round.

Session II: Interdisciplinary Research

Topic of the session was "Interdisciplinary Research" and the speaker was Prof. (Dr.) Amar Pal Singh, Dean, USLLS, Guru Gobind Singh Indraprastha University. Prof. (Dr.) Amar Pal

Singh has more than 20 years of teaching experience. He has received 8 Months Scholarship for undergoing the Course on LL.M. (Legal Theory) from European Academy of Legal Theory, Brussels, Belgium during the session 2002-2003. He is a Life Member of, Indian Law Institute, New Delhi and Indian Institute of Public Administration, New Delhi.

The session started at 3.00 P.M. on the virtual platform Zoom where the esteemed speaker was welcomed by the Faculty Coordinator -Ms. Purnima Gupta, Faculty, Department of Law. There were over 74 participants belonging to varied backgrounds ranging from students to research scholars to academicians to lawyers etc. Prof. Singh explained that 'research' cannot be learnt and has to be understood, i.e. to say that it is a set of skills and has to be cultivated by carefully conducting it. He highlighted the New Education Policy (NEP) which marks the one-year anniversary on 29th July 2021 and discussed various aspects of the said policy. Sir also explained the wide variety of challenges that NEP faces to uplift the society and help the nation to grow and sustain into a large and vibrant economy. These challenges require top notch scientific research and deep understanding of humanities and social sciences. Art, culture, history, and linguistic traditions require a high level of research and innovation. The National Education Policy also lays down that the Higher Education Institution (HEI) cannot survive today without quality research.

Prof. Singh briefly explained the reforms that the NEP focuses on and aims to achieve in the upcoming years with the help of its guiding principles which focuses on holistic learning and multidisciplinary research. These reforms include multiple entries and exit in UG/PG programs, multidisciplinary education which includes the flexibility of subjects in the undergraduate and postgraduate programs, installation of MERU i.e. Model Multidisciplinary Research University in or near every district in order to promote Interdisciplinary education and comprehensive learning. The National Education Policy aims to cultivate the research culture by providing a comprehensive approach towards education. The National Research Foundation lays down various functions like providing funds to peer reviewed grant proposals, seed, grow and facilitate research in HEIs etc.

Sir deliberated upon the impact that the lack of research in the legal discipline in general and interdisciplinary research leads to and therefore policies and legislations on various issues do not lead to the desired outcome. The implementation of these policies also fails due to the wide gap in legal and social narratives. Sir explained this by giving the example of Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961 and Prohibition of Child Marriage Act, 2006 but these issues continue to the society due to the gap in social and legal dimensions. This also focurs due to the lack of research hat a gap in Social and legal dimensions. This also focurs due to the lack of research hat a gap in Social and legal dimensions.

in the policy area where the researcher seeks to create a law. Prof. Singh succinctly gave examples of various laws which are existing in our societies but are not relevant to the present times as they are not familiar with the ground realities i.e. to say Mining Sector whereinthere exists laws that were made in 1950s but the model that is being followed is nowhere closeto the 21st century where the economic development and benefit can be extracted out. The otherareas that Sir briefly explained included –Energy Sector, Banking sector, Labor Market and Labor Laws, Linguistics and Semiotics etc. However, the ground situation remains to be hazy and there is not much research that is being conducted. Prof. Singh laid emphasis that despite new codes that are introduced in the Labor Sector, the old laws will still remain in existence. Interms of Linguistics and Semiotics, Sir explained that even after India's diverse culture and ethnicity where there are 22 official languages and almost 2000 dialects, no research as such has been conducted in order to grow this area exponentially which will lead to enormous possibilities of legal realities.

Prof. Singh made some concluding observations where he critically analyzed that the Law school teachers have developed a vested interest for outdated laws. He also emphasized that even though Law schools have the potential for extensive research, it has remained unexplored, and the legal research has not been properly 'articulated' or 'nourished' in law schools. The session was open for the query of participants that were addressed by Prof. Singhin a very precise manner. The session came to an end after the question- answer round.

Session III: Empirical Research in IPR

The resource person in the sixth session was Prof. Irene Calboli was the expert resource person of the session. She is Professor of Law at Texas A&M University School of Law, Academic Fellow at the School of Law, University of Geneva, Fellow at Melbourne Law School, and Transatlantic Technology Law Fellow at Stanford University. Her research focuses on IP, International Trade, and Cultural Heritage Law.

The session commenced with an opening remark by Dr. Nisha Dhanraj Dewani, Associate Professor, Department of Law, MAIMS, wherein she extended her warm welcome to the participants and resource person of the session.

Prof. Irene in her lecture provided an overview of empirical studies in different areas of IP. She told the participants about how to approach and use data in their own research and scholarly work. The session was an effort to enrich research scholars and faculties in Intellectual property related areas on research methodology. In the end, Dr. Nisha Dramraj Dewani, Associate Professor, Department of Law, presented the vote of thanks to Professor alboli expressing scholars and scholar and schol her gratitude.

Session IV : Copyright and Plagiarism Issues in Educational Sector

She outlined the basics of both the fundamental and Research Method analysis for the students. She highlighted the need to carefully select the stocks as she categorized them as wealth creators and wealth destroyers. The critical aspects of choosing the right stock were listed as business models, competitive advantage, and corporate governance. She also brought to light the quantitative aspects of choosing a stock such as profitability, earnings, operating efficiency and debt-capital ratio. Shealso said that while choosing stocks we need to consider financial ratio analysis of profitability, valuations, operating efficiency and leverage ratios—as they are more revealing than the absolute numbers. The presentation was lucid and interactive. She spoke of the assumptions on which technical analysis operates: the market discounts everything, price moves in trends and history tends to repeat itself. She briefly introduced the line charts, the bar charts, and the candlestick chart for the students and delineated concepts of support and resistance in technical analysis.

Following the lecture there was a very interactive question and answers session with many questions being asked and answered. There was a quiz which followed. Three top and quick respondents (Abhay Pratap Singh, Kushal Jain, and Rishabh Sati) were rewarded with a cash prize of Rs. 500. Prof. Ravi Kumar Gupta gave his concluding remarks and announced the results and congratulated the winners of the quiz.

The session ended with the vote of thanks proposed by Ms. Shilpa B S L, Assistant Professor, Department of Business Administration and Co-Convenor. The event was technically coordinated by Ms. Shilpee Aggarwal. Ms. Shruti Sharma, also a member of the organizing team, ensured distribution certificates to all the participants. Our BBA students, Eshita Arora (BBA 2019-22) designed theposter, while Alka Patel (2018-2021batch) and Yamini Ahuja (2018-2021) anchored the event.

One week e-FDP on 'Academic & Social media websites' organized by Departments of Commerce & Economics, under the aegis of IQAC and MACS in association with Maharaja Agrasen University, Baddi, HP from June 02, 2021 – June 08, 2021 is one of its own novel kind of FDP in the field of research. This FDP has received 200+ registrations pan India covering 70+ institutions ranging from Jamia Milia Islamia, JNU to Delhi University.

Social media platforms have become the invincible part of 'new normal'. Academic & Social media websites are being used to promote engagement with existing professional networks and extend the boundaries of these networks to reach broader communities. There are various social networking platforms through which we can make personal branding for ourself or develop an online presence. This e-FDP focused on 5 academic sites - academia.edu, SSRN, ResearchGate, google scholar and ORCID. We hope that this FDP has helped participants to build their academic profile, increased their personal branding, extended network connectivity and many more.

In the inaugural session, we were joined by Prof. (Dr.) Sanjay Gupta, Vice Chancellor, World University of Design, Sonipat as Chief Guest of the event. He highlighted the constructive role played by the academic sites to manage one's online presence. Prof N K Kakkar, Former Director, MAIMS also made his humble presence in the FDP. Then our Session 1 was on Academia.edu which was delivered by Ms. Nikita Jain.

On the day 2 of the event, we were honored to have Shri Rajnish Gupta, Secretary of Maharaja Agrasen Technical Education Society as Chief Guest. Sir rightly stated that social media has changed the way we interact with data and other people. The event proceeded with the address of Guest of Honor, Prof Vishal Kumar. Dean, Research and Director, School of Management, Maharaja Agrasen University, Baddi, HP such as rightly stated that social networks are among the most widely adopted technologies in the present testing times. Finally, Ms. Rachita Aggarwal, Co-Convener of Research Congress 2021, and Assistant Professor, MAIMS gave the concluding remarks and vote of thanks. One Week Research Congress focused on the significance of LinkedIn. The session started with the welcome address by Ms. Sarita Garg, Associate Professor, MAIMS. She delivered a welcome speech for all of the students and dignitaries and gave a brief explanation on the benefits of LinkedIn. With her warm greetings, she introduced Ms. Jinal Shah, the resource person of the session. Ms. Jinal Shah, Assistant Professor, NMIMS discussed the LinkedIn usage for everyone in very lucid manner. According to her, branding is what your social media profile has to say about you.

She initially started with the topic of why personal branding is important and how we leverage LinkedIn for our benefit. She counseled participants about the importance of LinkedIn and how LinkedIn helps one to improve his/her profile. She said that LinkedIn helps in networking and 85% of jobs are available because of networking. She also gave some tips on how to make a LinkedIn profile and how to use it.

She also delivered a brief idea of the target audience on LinkedIn. Subsequently, she made us do an experiment in which we had to type our name on google and share the results. With this experiment, she said that "Your brand is not what you say about it, it's what Google says it is." Further, she focused on the LinkedInprofile by suggesting being authentic. She also focused on the point of what we should post and share on LinkedIn. She further extended her topic by discussing the types of visual content to boost visual content marketing. She gave some tips to share content on LinkedIn that we should post in a week minimum of twotimes and a maximum of five times and always use hashtags not more than five hashtags. Also, it is important to be regular and engage consistently by liking and sharing the content. Then the participants got the privilege to see a live demo session on how to manage LinkedIn profiles. Ina live session, she discussed how to post anything and then she discussed some posted content and told us how the content should be qualitative and not quantitative.

Later, Ms. Jinal gave a summary of how anyone can tind or apply for jobs and opportunities on Link dIn in just a few steps. She covered all the points in the easiest way to manage the profile and how to engige and how we can bring professionalism in our LinkedIn profiles. After the session, the participants sked questions in the Q&A session. Her session was seed informative for all the attendees and has brought some

The MAIMS 6^{t h} International Conference 2021 on the topic, "Global Economic Recovery – Research on Key Drivers" has been inaugurated on April 23, 2021, at 11:00 AM. The inauguration started with Ganesh Vandana performed by a student of MAIMS Cultural Society. Her performance brought back the beauty of classical dance. Dr. Sumedha Dutta, Associate Professor, Department of Business Administration, MAIMS formally welcomed all the dignitaries present online and participants from various parts of the country, colleagues, and students. She mentioned the significance of the theme of conference, highlighting that thetheme is multidisciplinary, and will result in substantial exchange of knowledge between academia, industrialists, and policy makers.

The function started with the welcome address by Prof. (Dr.) Ravi Kumar Gupta, Director, MAIMS. He welcomed everyone including eminent dignitaries, international partners, and the managing committee of MATES. He thanked the two academic international partners for their continuous support in all fields. He ensured that vast knowledge will be generated from the speeches of all the distinguished speakers at the conference. He promised that all the deliberations will be converted to several publications such as research papers, opinion articles, policy briefs which will be disseminated globally through various means. According to him, large scale increase in growth rate, large increase in consumer spending, increase in exports and many others might lead to recovery of global economy. On this note, he ends his speech.

Following this, Prof. (Dr.) S.K. Garg, Director General, MAIMS was called upon to share his views. He briefly talked about the theme saying that the economy is likely to go into a worse situation even today which can be quantified in terms of human health and well-being. He praised the entire organizing team for their hard work and promised that outcomes of the conference will be published in various journals represented by UGC.

Next came the address of international academic partners, Prof. (Dr.) S.L. Gupta, Dean, Warian College of Applied Sciences, Oman addressed the gatherisguine ough a recorded video. He lists the drivers of global economic recovery in 10 points priefly. Deluding increase in infrastructure multiple thinking in decision making; community inspiration and motivational programs; initiating income support programs and many others. These points covered all the aspects required for recovery of any economy during pandemic times. Then representative of another academic partner, Prof. (Dr.) Supachai, Dean, Faculty of Economics, Thammasat University, Thailand was asked to address the audience. But due to some unavoidable reasons, he could not join at that time. On his behalf, Dr. Archanun Kohpaiboon, Associate Professor, Bachelor of Economics, Thammasat University gave a speech on the theme of the conference. He explained that Covid has led to global economic stagnation. Vaccine has been progressing at different speeds in different countries and world economy is, thus recovering. It cannot be under control anywhere unless it is under control everywhere. It is challenging in the fields of education, health, politics, environment, international cooperation, management, etc. Thus, Covid acts like awakeup call for serious managing global economy cooperation. Then the audience got an opportunity to listen to our keynote speaker, Dr. Mia Mikic, Advisor, ARTNet, Thailand. She, being a trade economist, gave a long lecture through presentation on the topic 'Picking drivers for Resilient Recovery'. She briefly covered the three main points inthis regard – performance of global economy and national regions under pandemic; understanding the term recovery and its difference with resilient economy; and role of international cooperation in economic recovery. To summarize her lecture, people must understand what trade used to be doing before the pandemic. Trade used to provide bigger income to everyone, but it will not be able to achieve social objective, that is inclusive and sustainable development on its own, by its own. It will require a coherent mix of policies that will have attributes such as zero emissions in gender sensitivity as well as supply chain resilience, etc.

After this enlightening lecture on the theme, the audience was addressed by our Chief Guest, Mr. Niluka Kadurugamuwa, Deputy High Commissioner at High Commission of Sri Lanka, New Delhi. His topic for presentation was 'How Sri Lanka is recovering and planning'? He initiated his speech by mentioning some problems the world is facing due to pandemic. It was followed by giving brief background of Sri Lanka using data and showing that Sri Lankan economy has contracted due to second wave of Covid. The Post Pandemic Revival Program is planned by the government to focus on targets like inclusive growth rate, unemployment rate, budget deficit, annual inflation, per capita income, and exchange rate. To achieve these targets, actions like infrastructural development, promoting liberal investment, improving trade agreements, and many more needs to be planned by Sri Lankan government. With this, Mr. Niluka's presentation came to an end.

The Inaugural session came close towards an end with the speech of Dr. Nand Kishore Garg, Founder & Chief Advisor, MATES, and Chancellor, MAU, HP. He gave his blessings to everyone present at the function. He rightly stated that patience and focus on health are the two importantkeys to sailing through these testing times and staying positive together, we can beat all the upheavals. It was followed by the virtual release of the international conference compendium, edited by Prof. (Dr.) Ravi Kumar Gupta, Dr. Sanjay Kumar Mangla, Prof. (Dr.) S.L. Gupta, Dr. Juthathip Jongwanich. The conference compendium contains abstracts of all the papers selected for presentation in conference. After that there was the release of a special issue of MAIMSJournal of Management, in which a few selected thought-provoking papers of the conference is published. Another release of Arthniti - the quarterly newsletter of the Department of Economicswas followed. The newsletter will encourage students to cultivite PSP their interest in economics. It is a result of the painstaking offeres made by the student editor team. It was further followed by appreciating faculty memberase MAINS for their long servi doctoral degree in2020, publication of books, and funder gemetts tudies Sector-22, Rohini, Delhi-86

At the end, the conference convener Dr. Sanjay Kumar Mangla, Associate Professor & Head, Department of Economics, MAIMS addressed the audience. On behalf of the entire MAIMS fraternity, he expressed his sincere gratitude to all dignitaries and trustees for their divine leadership and continuous motivation. He also thanked the two international academic partners for accepting an invitation to organize this conference together. Further he thanked the session chairs and co-chairs, members of organizing committee, technical heads, and student volunteers for their continuous support during the entire event. With this, the inaugural session of MAIMS 6th International Conference came to an end. Dr.Sumedha Dutta, in her concluding lines thanked all the guests for gracing the occasion with their solemn presence.

Eminent speakers addressing the audience at International Conference on the Theme "Global Formeric Recovery – Research on Key Drivers" held on April 23, 2021

Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Management Studies under the aegis of IQAC and in coordination with MAIMS Cultural Society organized one day 6th International Conference on July 23, 2021, on the topic 'Global Economic Recovery – Research on Key Drivers'. It was organized with two academic partners – Waljat College of Applied Sciences, Oman and Thammasat University, Thailand. The conference also got two special issues of Scopus Index journal, "Thailand and the World Economy" where few selected quality papers of conference will be published.

The topic of the conference is very appropriate in the current pandemic situation. Everyone in the world is concerned about their health and then about the global recovery. It necessitated us to organize a panel discussion comprising of renowned academicians and policy makers to discuss this issue from various aspects. Under the limitation of this pandemic and lockdown in India, we managed to get four prominent speakers along with one moderator. Among the distinguished panel members, we had Dr. Badri Narayanan Gopalakrishnan, Co- founder of Infinite Sum Modelling Inc. (Infisum), United States; Prof. Faisal Ahmed, AssociateProfessor & Area Chair, International Business, Fore School of Management, Delhi, India; Dr.Juthathip Jongwanich, Associate Professor, Thammasat University, Thailand & Editor, Thailand and the World Economy; and Dr. Sanjay Kumar Mangla, Associate Professor & Head, Department of Economics, Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Management Studies, Delhi, India. Also Dr. Anjali Tandon, Associate Professor, Institute for Studies in Industrial Development, Delhi, India agreed our request to be the moderator of the entire panel discussion.

The session began at 12:45pm with Ms. Kamna Vaid, Assistant Professor, Department of Commerce, MAIMS, Delhi introducing the session of the conference. Firstly Ms. Sakshi Gupta, Assistant Professor, Department of Economics, MAIMS, Delhi was called upon to present the background paper of the conference prepared by her under the guidance of Dr. Sanjay Kumar Mangla. The agenda of her paper was better insights of any economy after any crisis, challenges and drivers of global economic recovery, role of international organizations, policies and efforts undertaken by various countries. She talked about the role of Covid-19 vaccines in economic recovery and focused on the important role of international organizationsIMF, WTO and UN. She concluded her presentation by showing a report, according to which government of almost all countries tries to insert liquidity in the form of fiscal stimulus packages. She further lists important points for recovery according to her research are rise in consumer spending, rise in investment, and rise in net exports. Next the conference was taken over by the moderator for the panel discussion, Ms. Anjali Tandon. She came up with a few sets of questions under her opening remarks: What will be the response of this growth in terms of its inclusiveness? Who would be left behind? What will be its shape? What would be its contour in the coming times? How would this growth accommodate itself with the changing pattern of foreign trade, whether internationally or domestically due to logistic constraints? How does this growth move, take care of sustainabledevelopment goals? According to her, the growth should have some features like green growth, inclusive growth, sustainability, and pandemic resilient. She ended her discussion with her last thought: from the current scenario, it can be concluded that compromise on public sector can't be afforded for reason of efficiency in every sector. In such a pandemic, the public sector is important as market charges are not affordable by many people, thus, public sector can at least provide such sufferer's basic required aid.

Director Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Managemet Studies Sector-22, Rohini, Delhi-86

Next, she briefly introduces the four members who will be speaking in the discussion. She allotted every member 10-12 minutes each for their respective part in the panel discussion. The discussion started with Dr. Badri as the first speaker of the session. His topic was Digital Economy. He began his talk by explaining the relation between digital transmission and covid. He stated that there is a lot of potential of using digital sector in recovery than being used till date. This pandemic brought urgent need for boosting infrastructure development in digital sector. He also mentioned the importance of Tracing applications these days like Arogya Setu developed by India and in New York city, algorithms are created to see Covid-19 risk in hospitalization. He also threw light upon security and privacy, as it is an important part in digital world. He mentioned the necessity for rules and regulations to be brought into effect. Andthat would mean penalization, but it should not come with preconceived notions of digital networks being prone to bad influence. Next, he talked about general contributions of digital transformation in Economic Revival claiming that there has been increasing productivity with expansion of digital sector. It is expected that the digital sector will contribute to 10-15% of GDPgrowth. Thus, digitization must be made accessible to poor and vulnerable sections of society.

Next speaker called upon was Dr. Juthathip. She decided a wide coverage of global economic recovery by focusing on four points – issues on vaccine roll out, contribution of trade liberalization, the proper use of stimulation packages, and making growth resilient through diversification measure. Starting with the first point, according to her there is a need for government to coordinate with private sectors to ensure proper supply of vaccines to all the people equitably. This is important as it is not known that whether just 2 doses of vaccine are enough for lifetime, thus country needs to prepare for the growing need of vaccine. She further talked about vaccine nationalism which needs to be reduced by proper global cooperation. Then developed countries need to help developing countries especially the ones who are not able to produce vaccines to get easy and cheap access to the vaccines. Next, she addressed the issue of trade liberalization and global value chains. In her research, she found that global value chains still exist. Even though tariff barriers on vaccines are low, but barriers on inputs used for producing vaccines is quite high, increasing its costs. Thus, bilateralism is required in this situation. Also there has been a continuous rise in non-tariff barriers which makes trade complicated, this also needs to be reduced to avoid unnecessary trade costs.

Another important point is that proper use of fiscal and monetary policies is crucial for global economic recovery. Announcing stimulus packages is not enough, they need to be put to proper use. The government should prioritize the labor market these days as job loss is the biggest problem, andmatching labor back into the job market is a need of the hour. Another one that is important is infrastructure that supports economy moving towards industry 4.0. The country needs to invest in the investment project that the country has comparative advantage. The last point that she focused on was resilient growth through some diversifications. It is important for governmentto just act as a good facilitator and leave the decisions to diversify for the private sector.

Then Dr. Anjali called the third speaker Prof. Faisal Ahmed who discussed how to shapeglobal geopolitics. He said that it is necessary to understand the global U.S. and China great power rivalry for understanding global economic recovery. As China started recovering their factories in March 2020, the American discourse terms it as a term but they too do not offer an PSP alternative solution. Prof. Ahmed further questions about considering only of middle- and hi C-22 R income economies. He focused on existence of human development element in global recov and thus ignorance of small islands, or low-income countriemer the vulnerable economies, d Sector-22, Rohini, Delhi-the least developed countries are not possible when economy recovery is considered as focusing on few countries' recovery isn't sufficient. At the end of his discussion, he added that the issue of climate change cannot be ignored while talking about recovery. . He emphasized severe climate change challenges by South Pacific countries and states that climate change is a major threat which needs to be handled efficiently.

Lastly, the moderator went towards Dr. Sanjay Kumar Mangla. He first appreciated all the speakers and prior members discussing in Panel discussion and he just mentioned a few questions and problems he thought are to be solved in need of the hour. He presented his concern over 'How long this crisis will go?', problem of 'Migrant Labors' as, in anticipation of future lockdown they have started to move back. Further he talked about large scale encouragement by government for work from home but as we know in India, maximum workforce is working in informal sector, so 'How to meet consumable demands?' and the need for international support.

Lastly, the moderator thanked all the panelists and declared the session to be over. At the end, Ms. Kamna summarized the key factors required for global economic recovery. She invited Dr. Praveen Kumar Gupta, Associate Professor & Head, Department of Law, MAIMS, Delhi, India to propose vote of thanks. He thanked PM of India for his continuous efforts during this pandemic. He further thanked all the panel members for such an insightful discussion on the theme of the conference. He also thanked Dr. Sanjay Kumar Mangla and his entire team for managing and arranging the entire session so successfully. With his kind words, the session came to an end.

Ms. Kamna Vaid, Assistant Professor, MAIMS Welcoming the eminent speakers at International Conferences, the Theme "Global Economic Recovery – Research on Key Drivers" held on April 23, 2021

An International Conference titled "Global Economic Recovery – Research on Key Drivers" was organized by the Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Management Studies, affiliated to Guru Gobind Singh Indraprastha University, Delhi (India) on April 23, 2021. The conference was organized in partnership with Waljat College of Applied Sciences, Oman who provided financial help for the proper management of Conference. In addition to this, Thammasat University of Thailand agreed to be an academic partner of international conference. They also provided two special issues in their Scopus indexed bi-annual journal, "Thailand andthe World Economy", with first issue in November 2021 andsecond issue in February 2022. The focus of the Conference was to provide better insights of the world economy after therecent economic crisis. Further, the Conference aimed to discuss drivers of global economic recovery which will lead to the advancement of the theory and practical applications in the field of economic, commerce, management, law, communication, and other related areas.

In total, 15 parallel technical sessions were conducted. Total papers received for the conference were more than 100 with around 200 authors and 400 + registrations. There were 30 session chairs and co – chairs to judge those papers and they belong to various countries and various institutions. In terms of papers and other contributions, we have touched upon more than 80% of the geographical part of the country and there were experts from more than 10 countries like US, Thailand, Oman, Australia, China.

In all the sessions, the opening remarks were given by the respective technical heads and compering was done by student coordinators. The heads introduced the theme of their session and told the rules of the presentation. Each presenter was given five minutes to present their research paper and 2 minutes each was given to session chair and co-chair for their comments; and one minute for any question from the audience.

The judgement sheet was provided to the session chairs and co-chairs in advance. In the sheet they were required to give marks to the presenters on various criteria. The judgement sheet was made of total 30 marks, out of which 5 marks was for Originality of the idea; 5 marks for Structure or Relevance of the paper; 5 marks for Data & Research Methodology used; 5 marks for the Findings; 5 marks for the Presentation; and 5 marks for Policy Relevance of the paper. Once the marks were given for all the candidates of all the sessions, they were compiled and calculated to find the best paper award. We made 8 sub themes out of these 15 paralleltechnical sessions and within each sub-theme, one paper was awarded as best paper. In addition to this, there was a special category for students as best paper. These sub themes were – Economics, Finance, Marketing, Challenges in Recovery, Media, HR & Law, Digitization, General Management.

At the end, the session chairs and co-chairs addressed the audience sharing their experience of the session and their views about the theme of the conference. They also provided scholars with relevant ideas and tips to improve not only their research but also the way of presenting their ideas. Finally, the session concluded with a Vote of thanks by respective faculty coordinators. They thanked the participants for being part of the conference and thanked the session chairs and co-chairs for devoting their valuable time and guidingthe scholars in the right direction. The 6th International Conference on 'Drivers of Global Economic Recovery' was organized byArthanomics Society and MAIMS Cultural Society under the aegis of IQAC for one day on April 23, 2021 in gave a platform for academicians researchers, students, and professionals from the industry to elevate themselves in the research and exchange their ideas in various fields contributing to the global economic recovery. The program ended at 3PM with a Materietory session dies

Ms. Kamna Vaid, Assistant Professor, Department of Commerce, MAIMS welcomed all the dignitaries, participants from various parts of the country, colleagues, and students. She informed me that the event went smoothly with 15 parallel technical sessions in which more than 100 papers were presented by authors around the globe. We had a privilege to host various academicians, researchers, and scholars from local, national, and international levels enlightening us both in theory as well as practical ways to ponder upon the drivers of global economy. They talked about the foreign trade practices, deep insights into several issues related to world economy, the political related issues of the economy, etc. the event tried to cover almost all the aspects and dimensions related to determinants and implications to the economic growth.

The function started with the address by Conference Chair – Prof. (Dr.) Ravi Kumar Gupta, Director, MAIMS. He welcomed everyone including eminent dignitaries, international partners and the managing committee of MATES. He informed that the academic international partner provided us with sponsorship and two special issues in SCOPUS indexed journal "Thailand and the World Economy". He was delighted with the enrichment of knowledge generated at the conference. He promised that all the deliberations will be converted to several publications such as research papers, opinion articles, policy briefs which will be disseminated globally through various means. He asked the audience to consider this last session as not an end of an academic endeavor but a start to other academic endeavors. Further he informed participants about other academic events of MAIMS that are lined up in the coming months.

Then Prof. (Dr.) G. P. Govil, Advisor, MATES was called for the conference address, but he couldnot join due to some unavoidable reasons. But he shared his wishes and valuable insights witheveryone. Then the Conference Convener - Dr. Sanjay Kumar Mangla, Associate Professor &Head, Department of Economics, MAIMS was called upon to read the conference report. He informed that the conference was organized in partnership with Waljat College of Applied Sciences, Oman who provided sponsorship for the proper management of Conference. In addition to this, Thammasat University of Thailand agreed to be an academic partner of international conference. They also provided two special issues in their Scopus indexed biannual journal, "Thailand and the World Economy", with first issue in November 2021 and second issue in February 2022. He further told me that 15 parallel technical sessions were conducted in the morning with papers from different fields like law, economics, human resource, management, education, and many others. Total papers received for the conference were more than 100 with around 200 authors and 400 + registrations. There were 30 session chairs and co. - chairs to judge those papers and they belong to various countries and various institutions. In terms of papers and other contributions, we have touched upon more than 80% of the geographical part of the country and there were experts from more than 10 countries like US, Thailand, Oman, Australia, China. The theme of the conference perfectly fits into the box considering the current economic situation. All the economies are trying hard to recover and this crisis did not leave even a single part of the world untouched. The allied effects of covid are much more than just the health as this is not only a health crisis but an economic crisis. This conference has provided some insights on how policies can be designed to escape from the crisis.

He also gave a brief about the inaugural session and panel discussion session. He finally announced best paper awards in 7 different sub theme- Economic drivers of Global Recovery; Finance & its impact on Global Recovery; Marketing Trends in the era of Global Recovery; General Management & Challenges in Global Recovery; Role of Media in Global Recovery; Trends in HR & Law in Global Recovery; Digitization & its impact on GlobalRecovery.....Special Consolation prize in Student's Category was given to Ms. Aastha Gupta of MAIMS on 'Future Aspects of Stock Market Volatility & Mathematical Models'.

Then the audience got a chance to listen to Guest of Honour - Dr. Lurong Chen, Senior Economist, Economic Research Institute for ASEAN and East Asia, Jakarta. He started his speech saying that the theme of the conference is appropriate and shared his understanding of the current situation. According to him, the situation in global economy is unique as the difficulty starts with supply side shocks. The pandemic forced the country to adopt lockdown andsocial distancing which led to higher prices and lower output. These supply side shocks moved to demand side as demand shrinks due to lower output. This demand side shock has a smallpositive side that it releases the pleasure of higher price of labour. Governments of many countries have adopted fiscal stimulus packages with the aim to increase demand and thus output, but this is a short-term effect. The other side is that fiscal stimulation will lead to higher prices, that is inflation. Policy makers should work in the direction of ensuring that supply rises. Indiais important country to contribute when we talk about global recovery.

After such an enlightening speech, time comes for Chief Guest-Mr. Praveen Kumar, IES, Director, Ministry of Commerce & Industry, GOI. Due to some covid pandemic rising situation, he could not join as he was busy in his engagements with central government, but he shared histhought about global economic recovery.

Lastly, a vote of thanks was given by Prof. (Dr.) V. K. Khurana, Head, Department of Business Administration, MAIMS and Coordinator, IQAC, MAIMS. On behalf of the entire MAIMS fraternity, he expressed his sincere gratitude to all dignitaries and trustees for their divine leadership and continuous motivation. Further he thanked the session chairs and co-chairs, members of organizing committee, technical heads, and student volunteers for making this event a success. He talked about MAIMS emerging as a leader in digital education platform. Ms. Kamna Vaid concluded the event with the end note that the conference overall was the feather in the cap, and it was a milestone and there will be many on the way to come. The institute is always known for giving its quality education and making the students learn throughpractical training. This will continue in the years to come with a greater number of workshopsand conferences which tune the intuitive minds of the younger generation.

PR is a mi of journalism, psychology, and lawyering – it's an ever-changing and always interesting landscape." – Ronn Torosian

Every business depends on good publicity and good relationships with its consumers and partners. PR plays a crucial role in building a brand up from scratch and making friendly relations with its consumers. Public relations help in promoting and protecting the image of a company, it is important to do good PR if you want your brand and your name to shine above all the competition. Public Relations plays with the mind of the consumers and the potential consumers in a good way. It cannot be considered manipulation as Public Relations focuses on bringing the true image of a company in front of the public by doing activities which can help society as a whole and leave a positive impact. To educate the students about the significance of PR and its many aspects of PR, the department of Journalism and Mass Communication organized a webinar on 'Career Options & Entrepreneurial mindset and Employability Skills in the Indian Communications Industry' on the 17th of April, 2021 with renowned and unrivalled speakers from the industry with powerful opinions and meaningful experience. Resource Person: Ms. Mahima Garg, Tax Associate at PWC

Number of participants: 100

The Department of Commerce, Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Management Studies, organized a webinar on the zoom platform on Thursday, 18th March 2021, at 3 pm. The topic of the webinar was 'Unmasking GST: Research & Analysis of various factors of GST'. Ms. Kajal Mittal, Co- Convenor, commenced the webinar with warm greetings and pleasantries. She then requestedProf. (Dr.) S.K Garg, Director- General of MAIMS, for his kind words.

Ms. Kajal Mittal, Assistant Professor, Department of Commerce, MAIMS welcomes all the guests and participants events in the webinar held on March 18, 2021.

Prof. (Dr.) S.K Garg said that the webinar was on a very concurrent topic and he was very delighted to be a part of it because it was conducted by none other than the alumni of the college itself. After that, he said, GST has become an important reform in today's life. According to the facts, last month's GST collection was the highest. Therefore, this is a very important topic and will help the students of every semester.

Prof (Dr.) S.K. Garg, Director General, MAIMS, addressing the participants and highlighting the need for such events in the webinar held on March 18, 2021.

After his cheerful words, Ms. Kajal Mittal has requested Dr. Manju Gupta, Head, Department of Commerce, to throw some light on the topic. Dr. Manju Gupta welcomed everyone on the behalf of MAIMS and gave a brief about GST. She said that GST is a revolutionary step taken by the government. The act came into action on 1st July 2017. The moto for this was one nation one tax, which means that this tax has subsumed various other taxes under it. At last, she ended up thanking all the dignities who joined the webinar.

Dr. Manju Gupta, Head, Departmentof Commerce addressing the participants about GST in the webinar held on March 18, 2021.

After that, Ms. Kajal Mittal introduced the main resource person of the webinar, Ms. Mahima Garg. Ms. Mahima Garg became a part of the Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Management Studies by graduating from BCom. (Hons.) in the year 2019. Later she did her MBA in finance from IBS Hyderabad. Currently, she was a tax associate at PWC.

Resource person Ms. Mahima Garg, Tax Associate at PWC, highlighting various elements of the GST in the webinar held on March 18, 2021

Ms. Mahima thanked everyone and said that it was her honour to come back and interact with the students. She started the discussion about the topic by showing her PowerPoint presentation. She shared that when a person hears about tax, there are two thoughts in his mind:

- The first is to pay tax.
- And the second thought is about saving the tax.

From the above, she said that taxes are of 2 types: -

- Direct Taxes
- Indirect Taxes

Direct tax is imposed on a person on his income/profits or property. It is the tax levied on income or profits of the person who pays it whereas indirect tax is imposed on a transaction and the tax collected by an intermediary from the person who bears the ultimate economic burden of the tax. Now coming on the topic of GST she told me that it is an indirect tax. After which she discussed the types of GST, which she divided into two forms: -

The first was intra-state/intra-union territory transaction which further divided into two subparts that are following: -

- SGST/UTGST which was collected by the state/union territory.
- CGST was collected by the central government.

IGST that was collected by the central ganagement. Studies

After that, she briefed about these GSTs. The full form of GST is goods & services tax. CGST means central goods & services tax, SGST means state goods & services tax whereas, UTGS means union territory goods & services tax and at last IGST means integrated goods & ervices tax. From here, Ms. Mahima started explaining everything with examples. Following are some of the examples of what she presented. The very first example was the difference between CGST/SGST and IGST. She said that if the supplier and the recipient both are from the same state, for instance, Punjab then, CGST/SGST is applicable whereas if the supplier is from the other state, say Uttar Pradesh then IGST would be applicable. Later she gave some more examples on IGST, UGST, and CGST/SGST. And after that, she explained the value-added tax is the tax paid only on the value addition.

With that, she started her discussion on input tax credit which she explained by an example: -Timber maker provides his services to the furniture maker and, later, the furniture maker provides his services to a furniture retailer. There are two tax invoices: -

- Tax invoice A is between a timber maker and a furniture maker. It includes the cost of goods Rs.100 and SCGST @10% equal to Rs.10, along with CGST @10% equal to Rs.10. Total is Rs.120. This is input tax.
- Tax invoice B is between a furniture maker and a furniture retailer. It includes the cost of goods Rs.200 and the SGST @10% equal to Rs.20, along with the CGST @10% equal to Rs.20. The total makes it Rs.240. This is the output tax.

The overall presentation was full of interesting examples and the topics of GST were discussed thoroughly. Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Management Studies took a fascinating step towards the knowledge of the students. It was very motivating to have 100 participants for the webinar.

After Ms. Mahima's presentation, Ms. Sumati Kohli, Assistant Professor, Department of Commerce thanked everyone present in the meeting. Mr. Praveen Kumar Singh, Assistant Professor, Department of Commerce was the 'technical head' of the webinar.

NavChetna – The Social Service Club of Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Management Studies (MAIMS), Rohini, Delhi organized a seminar on "Awareness and Prevention of Financial & Intellectual Property Frauds " on Friday, March 12, 2021 in its campus. The seminar provided a common platform to the experts from Reserve Bank of India in the field of financial & Intellectual Property frauds investigations and police official working in EOW to familiarize the faculty and staff of MAIMS with the latest developments in the domain of the financial and Intellectual Property frauds. At the same time the seminar also provided participants with a possible and appropriate course of action while dealing with the cases of financial Intellectual Property frauds. Our expert resource persons, Mr. Anil Kr. Sinha, Training Department, RBI and Mr. Shalinder Sharma, Inspector, Economic Offences Wing, Mandir Marg provided a deeper insight about the various types of Financial & Intellectual Property Frauds and shared their vital first-hand experiences and latest cases with the participants.

Mr. Anil Sinha mentioned that the most vulnerable sections of the society are the poor people and lower middle-class people while talking of Financial Frauds. He very emphatically stated greed, that is illusion of making quick money as the main reason of Financial Frauds. Mr. Shalinder Sharma in his speech highlighted the roles of different police officials while dealing with Intellectual Property Frauds and discussed that the best way to safeguard and protect your intellectual property is by being proactive. The rich experience of the experts made the seminar very informative, and the purpose of the seminar was successfully accomplished. A motivating number of 60 participants benefitted from this seminar.

WEBINAR ON "BE A SOCIAL ENTREPRENEUR" 9th December 2020

Resource Person: Mr. Sahil Aggarwal , Founder and CEO of Rishihood University No. of Participants: 107

By Mr. Sahil Aggarwal

On the eve of December 9, 2020 Enactus MAIMS organised a webinar on the topic "Be A Social Entrepreneur". The speaker for the session was Mr. Sahil Aggarwal, Founder and CEO of Rishihood University, an impact-oriented initiative established in India which believes in an ecosystem approach to learning rather than isolated training and research.

The webinar was attended by more than 107 students of MAIMS.

The topic of the seminar revolved around social entrepreneurship. The speaker started the webinar with relating his personal life experiences with social entrepreneurship which helped the audience to connect to the topic. After which certain concepts and principals were explained by the speaker. Furthermore the concepts of profit and non-profit organisations and important aspects of raising funds were explained to the attendees in order to provide them with the basic ideas of working of such organisations. The students were motivated when the speaker explained the basis of building a start up at a young age with much less responsibilities and higher risk taking capabilities.

The second half of the webinar revolved around a two way communication between the attendees and the speaker. The participants came forward with some exceptionally brilliant questions and the speaker answered them in a detailed manner. Questions came from all the aspects considering the social, investment, finance, etc. requirements for a startup.

After the session e-certificates were distributed to all the participants by the organising team.

Concept Note of Gender- Based Violence in Digital Space

Today, cyber violence against women is a growing concern. Women are subject to various forms of cyber violence including abusing, threatening, stalking, voyeurism, body-shaming, defaming, surveillance, revenge porn and indecent representation of women. As per the statistics recorded by National Crime Record Bureau (NCRB), 2017 nearly every fifth cybercrimes is committed against women and the impacts of these forms of violence are traumatic for victims such as depression, stress, and insomnia. Women and other target groups lack awareness as to where to report such crimes and prefer to remain silent after suffering online abuse. Cyber violence is generally committed through fake ids created on Facebook, Twitter and other social media platforms and poses a major threat to the security of women. The existing legislative framework under Indian Penal Code, 1860 & Information and Technology Act, 2000have become progressive after amendments. However, both the laws are subject to certain limitations and does not have potential to deal with the issues of cyber violence.

Objective of the National Research Webinar

The proposed National Research Webinar will present the issues pertaining to Gender-based violence in Digital Space. It will explore the following areas:

- Υ The Evolution of internet and its consequences on women in digital space
- Υ Understanding of Gender-based Violence and its various forms
- Υ Cyber Crime and Administration of justice
- Υ Overview of Cyber law in India
- Υ Challenges for law and law enforcement in ensuring access to justice for victims of gender-based cyber violence.

The National Research Webinar will adopt an interdisciplinary approach to generate information amongst differentstakeholders such as researchers, women's rights, lawyers, and students from a range of disciplines: Law, Management, Journalism, Psychology, Sociology and so on.

Expected outcome of National Research Webinar

The expected outcomes from the National Research Webinar are many fold; primarily the National Research Webinar is expected to effectively communicate, expose and explain the need to understand the cyber world which is increasingly becoming an essential part of life. The nuances of cyber world, as one expects, are extremely specific and technical. Thus, it is pertinent that the participants are made aware about he various dimensions that they expose themselves as soon as they simply click a link on the internet. Secondly, the proposed National Research Webinar is expected to elaborate on the evolution of cyber space in India and its consequences on women in particular. As it is common in non- digital space, women have often been seen to be victims of various cybercrimes including sexual harassment, bullying etc. Once the participants are made aware about the growing threats of cyber world, the National Research Webinar shall dive into next stage i.e. justice system in India vis a vis cyber crimes. In this part the National Research Webinar is expected to, as suggested by the objectives, enumerate how well we, as a country, are prepared to deal with rising spread of such crimes. Not only the participants must be madeaware about the various crimes accepted in criminal statutes, but also about new crimes, whichyet not have been recognized as offenses but still poses major challenges, especially to women.Further, the National Research Webinar is expected to highlight various remedies available to the victims. Now, remedies must work both at pre- crimes stage, precautionary, and post crime stage which are restitutive, penal or compensatory in nature. Further, Covid-19 caused global pandemic, apart from the health emergency, has forced people to communicate and use electronic means for most of our necessities. Thus making the cyber space more important than ever. The proposed National Research Webinar is also expected to highlight the future challenges or new realities that people, especially women, might face on the internet.

Finally, as the proposed National Research Webinar is largely for the students of various streams, it is expected toignite an interest in minds of students who may well like to become cyber specialists in the future, which offers not only jobs but opportunities of entrepreneurship in the sector. Least of all students will become informed responsible citizens, better prepared, thus providing strengths to societal and national defenses.

Inaugural Session of the National Research Webinar 'Gender Based Violence In Digital Space'

Virginia Woolf marks 'Women needs a Room of her own', the room she talks about signifies the very space where she can assert her individuality and herself. This Legal Awareness Program was chalked with the very aim of bringing to light the laws which exist to secure and support women in the digital space as individuals in the society. Initiating the day Ms Sumedha Dutta, Assistant Professor, Department of Management Studies welcomed everyone to the one -day national National Research Webinar on the 'Gender Based Violence in Digital Violence' in collaboration with National Commission for Women organized by Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Management Studies (MAIMS) New Delhi, on 6th November 2020 Zoom Meeting platform.

The programme begin with bowing our heads towards goddess Maa Saraswati:

"Shubham Karotikalyaanamaarogyamdhansampada, shatru buddhi vinashaya , deepajyotinamostute. "I salute the supreme who is the light in the lamp that brings auspiciousness, prosperity, good health, abundance of wealth and the destruction of intellects enemy."

Gender Based Violence is a phenomenon deeply rooted in gender inequality and continues to be one of the most notable human rights violations within all societies. It is violence directed against a person because of their gender. Both men and women experience gender based violence but the majority of victims are women's and girls. Such violence knows no social, economic, or national boundaries Today's National Research Webinar will provide an opportunity to practitioners, academicians, researchers and civil society to deliberate various forms of gender based violence and its prevention. The talks and discussions focused on a gamut of increased prevalence of online violence against women, the lack of effective measures to prevent and contain it and the struggle to eliminate all forms of gender-based violence.

with his articulate deliberations over theme of Gender-Based Violence in Digital Space. He said crime is old as human civilization is, but there are systems in place which try to keep a check at crime. Cyber-crime is relatively recent it emerged with evolution of internet and its mass usage over social media. Cyber-crime has become as big as physical crime and exists in many forms. Especially cyber-crime is targeted towards women more from financial frauds to harassment it percolates in various forms. There are cyber cells in place but unfortunately the personnel there are not well trained in IT and hence the criminal outsmart them. Although now Supreme Court has made it mandatory to have IT trained personnel to head cyber cells. So theme of the National Research Webinar is apt in today's scenario and everyone will be benefitted from the same.

Sumedha Dutta: Thank you so much sir for enlightening us with your impeccable knowledge.

INTRODUCTORY REMARKS: PROF. G.P GOVIL, ADVISOR, MATES

Prof Govil served as a dean in Maharaja Agrasen University Baddi (H.P.) Director, Northern India Engineering College, and also as a Director, in Ideal Institute of Technology, Ghaziabad. Prof. Govil has 46 years of experience inteaching, research and industry. He has published about 25 research papers and also a member of National Board of Accreditation and Margdarshak, AICTE. I would like to call Advisor, MATES Prof. Dr. G.P. Govil for giving hisvaluable remarks.

Prof. (Dr.) G.P. Govil, underlined how the theme of the National Research Webinar is the need of the hour to spread awareness amongst women. We can't imagine how horrifying it is for women who undergo the trauma of harassment. The problem is that most these cases go unreported either due to ignorance or due to fear of society "log kyakaheinge". In India 70 crore people are using internet out of which 20 crore is women. Cyber-crime is an alarming concern which has sprungin recent times and needs immediately attention and recentsolation from government, family and civil society. Cyber space has become parallel form of living and offers abundant opportunities for women to exceltant contribute acros various fields therefore cyber space should be safe and offer and offer average. crime due to trust factoror psycho minded criminals which may lead to trauma or sometimes suicide to not fault of theirs. Women though being in the safety of their homes too are not safe due cyber-crime. This is a major setback of the development of nation and society. Youth is spending more time on social networking sites hence making them more vulnerable to cyber-crime. In India law governing agencies and people have minimal training and ignorance to cyber advancements has paved way for cyber-crime. We need a proactive approach in adopting technology and legislative framework along with education and training. So sensitization is much need to tackle the menace of gender based cyber-crime. Women access to justice should be a mix of criminal, civil and administrative processes and include the areas of the 5Ps namely Prevention of online violence, Protection of victims or survivors, Prosecution or Punishment of perpetrators, Provision of redress, and the last reparation of victims or survivors. Prof. Govil appealed all the participants to further spread the awareness about this issue at their levels in entire society and raise the voice against the cyber-crime against women.

Sumedha Dutta: Now I would like to call upon Dr. Shaveta Gagneja , Department of Law andLegal Studies , MAIMS for introducing the theme of the National Research Webinar.

INTRODUCTION OF THE THEME:

DR. SHAVETA GAGNEJA, Co-convenor of the National Research Webinar introduced the theme of the National Research Webinar. Dr. Shaveta Gagneja said women's presence in cyber space has increased tremendously hence gender violence in digital space has become a big threat to progress of gender equality. due to COVID 19 pandemic. Even criminals have access to everything and there is hug lack of digital security. Women are higher risk of cyber-crime in various forms due to lack proper education and training. Although there many campaign already addressing issues of digital harassment in spite of this women still face online violence still there is still huge lack of knowledge about online harassment. Hence, it is very important to spread awareness in this regard and raise this issue.

Sumedha Dutta: We are extremely delightful and honoured to have amongst us today's Chief Guest Hon'ble Justice Manju Goel, former Judge High court of Delhi. Presently she is the Chairperson of the Committee for preparation of Training Module for Legal Services Lawyers, Para Legal Volunteers and Probation Officers. She is also an arbitrator and mediator. She is one of the panel arbitrators of the Delhi International Arbitration Centre and also a Master Mediator on the Panel of Center for Effective Dispute Resolution, London. She is also a member of Governing Body of National Law University of Delhi and the Academic Council of National Law University, Jodhpur and member of Academic Advisory Committee of the School of Law, University of Petroleum and Energy Studies, Dehradun. Presently mam is doing the most noblest profession of teaching Judicial Officers. It's my privilege to invite ma'am to enlighten us.

addressed as part of the struggle to eliminate all forms of gender-based violence. We need to bring a change in the stereotyped submissive role of women in society.

And definitely, what we require is not more laws but implementation which begins with reporting, followed by a thorough investigation and wide spread awareness of such measures. There is huge increase in cyber- crime from small to white collar crime it may be in any form or degree due to quantum jump in science and technology. In cyber-crime it is difficult to identify source of crime. OTT platform have no censorship and internet users have lack of choice content selection at times disturbing obscene content lead to great stress and depression which many become deep rooted on our psychic. Crime against women is due to mindset of patriarchy, stereotyping women as inferior and hence there is trivialization of crime against women. We need to train our boys totreat women well. The problem is not lack of laws but poor implementation and not reporting of the crime. 30% of crime against women goes unreported either due to fear of society or ignorance or lack of faith in system. So what is needed is awareness at various levels i.e crimeits acquittal and root cause of crime. Even civil society can help bring justice bring the culprits to shaming and defaming. We need to understand the implications of crime against the women in cyber space in particular.

Dr. Nand Kishore Garg, gave a very insightful address. Dr. Garg emphasized upon the relevance of the National Research Webinar on such a pertinent issue for spreading the awareness in the society. He stated that the ugly rise of cyber-crime is due to use and abuse of technology. The unwanted obscene material is also leading to breaking of marriages and no choice of content control is at times taking a toll at the innocent ones too. We need to understand that every time the law governing can't control crime we also have to the onus of curbing crime at our level. It is in this direction that we must work as Change must begin with ME. Cyber-crime or any crime in general can be checked by imparting holistic and character-based education.

Prof. (Dr.) Vinita Gupta, Convenor of the National Research Webinar expressed gratitude to National Commission for Women for providing support to organize the National Research Webinar which is definitely a need of the hour. She thanked Chief Guest of the National Research Webinar Hon'ble Justice Manju Goel. She expressed heartfelt thanks to Dr. Nand Kishore Garg, Founder Chairman and Chief Advisor, Maharaja Agrasen Technical Education Society (MATES) for being constant source of inspiration for everyone. pictures on social media for various reasons. She highlighted that nothing can ever be forever deleted from online platform and it can anytime come back to you. Also, the content that we upload has digital footprints which can reveal one's personal details such as home/ office address. She cautionedus that websites do not take responsibility for the content uploaded on them and behave like dumb pipe; hence the responsibility of our safety lies on our own shoulders and its time we behave like smart pipes. She then briefed us about the Information Technology Act, 2000 whereby a person can be jailed for uploading gender disturbing material or obscene content, and also for concealing one's true identity while signing up on online portals. She also explained a few provisions of POSH Act, 2013 for preventing sexual harassment at workplace. She clarified that if even beyond stipulated working hours, the boss cannot legally ask a subordinate to act in an undesirable manner. Anyone who is subjected to any written form of violence can take a printof the same as a proof against the wrong doer and seek legal help. Ms. Aggarwal briefed us about two acts and reiterated that crimes such as such as asking for dowry, outraging a women'smodesty which have been committed since time immemorial in our society in either offline or online mode or both, can be addressed using the existing legal provisions.

Ms Varuna Kharbanda : Thank you ma'am, for sharing your perspectives, and addressing the issues and concerns relating to cybercrimes. We will now continue with the next technical session.

Technical Session:2 'Understanding of Gender-Based Violence' Time: 12:45PM-1:30PM topic 'Understanding of Gender-Based Violence'.Cyber Crime specially in India is a very subjective issue which touches every household, every person in and around the country irrespective of its financial status or age. Drawing our attention towards Article 51 A(h) which provides that.

It is the fundamental duty of every citizen to develop scientific temper, humanism and spirit of inquiry in the nation which is actually very much needed in traditional societies like ours which are still glued to very old traditions. Although, there is nothing wrong in believing in something and following traditions till the time it is not against the laws laid down in the nation which are protecting and maintaining peace in the nation. In India, research has shown that increasing access to the internet has resulted in more and more men and women facing online violence and abuse for participating in public life. Increased prevalence of online violence against women, the lack of effective measures to prevent and contain it, and the ensuing impunity must be addressed as part of the struggle to eliminate all forms of gender-based violence. Dr. Anurag deep stressed that consent is pivotal in online gender-based violence and key in differentiating lawful behaviour from unlawful and harmful behaviour. It important in gauging whether there has been a violation of privacy with regards to the dissemination of private data. Unfortunately, social media platforms make it easy for cyber stalkers to access an individual's personal information and use it against others often by posting sensitive content online without consent.

The session took into consideration the sociological jurisprudence as Indian societies talks about society whereas western society is about individualism. There is an the incorrect assumption that since India does not have laws with specific headings such as 'cyber bullying or 'porn', victims are powerless. This is yet another myth to be busted. Depending by (he mode and manner of commission of online violence, there inset sufficient provisions Sec22 the of Managemet Studies

Information and Technology Act, 2000 and Indian Penal Code, 1860 criminalizing acts such as rape or death threats online and non-consensual uploading of nude or sexually explicit content. For instance, the death and rape threats referred above would squarely attract Sections 506 (Parts I & II) IPC, which makes the 'intent to cause harm' that results in the commission of acts not legally bound or omission by the victim to exercise their legal rights. Similarly, 'revenge porn' cases may be dealt with through applying Sections 354C and Section 509 of Indian Penal Code and Sections 66E, 67 and 67A Information and Technology Act. If such an offence is committed against a minor, Section 67B Information and Technology Act, 2000 and possibly offences under The Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act, 2012 ('POCSO') will be applicable. Before concluding the session, he cast a duty not only on the authorities but on the citizens as well in reducing the cyber-crimes. This implementation needs to be coupled with non-legal measures to address the structural inequalities which stem in part from patriarchal notions of morality, lying at the heart of the online abuse faced by women .He also informed us about the5 types of enforcements such as educative, persuasive compulsive, coercive, punitive. These varies from being a more active citizen to emphasize on punishments to set examples for the rest.

Studies, New Delhi. One of the stark realities every Indian faces today is that of endemic gender- based violence. It is rampant, systemic, and deeply embedded within our sociocultural ecosystem. All of us at some point in time have either faced or witnessed genderbased violence. And, as members of progressive thinking academic community of teachers and students, we all have a responsibility to change this grim reality. And as they always say, you cannot change something that you do not know, we in this post lunch session will discuss different facets of gender-based violence to sensitize our students regarding the ways of both coping and overcoming gender-based victimization. We are privileged to have us ,Prof. (Dr.) Debarati Halder India's leading cyber victim counsellor, researcher, academician, and legal expert in the areas of cyber laws and gender rights. The whole presentation of Prof. Halder was spread over five parts viz. types/ways of gender-based violence in digital space, Routine Activity Theory explaining inter-relations among stakeholders of violence, stakeholders for ensuring justice to the victims of violence, main challenges in ensuring the justice, and suggestions to ensure justice to the victims. The presentation started with the removal of discrimination between men and women in terms of victims of violence in the digital space, though cases of violence where men are victims are reported very less. Prof. Halder explained four important types of violence in the digital space viz. text based, voice based, image based, and audio-visual based. The text-based violence occurs through messages on mobile phone or messaging applications such as WhatsApp, Facebook or LinkedIn where the victims have to pass through a trauma after receiving those messages containing vulgar languages. The voice-based violence takes place through calls or voice messages having threatening messages. The image-based violence is very menacing where images of victims are picked in public places such as parks, markets, or beaches and morphed. These morphed images are spread over social media. And the audio- visual violence happens through morphed videos of the victims which even include pornography. Prof. Halder also provided some examples of violence in digital space such as Ritu Kohli ute of A case.

The second part of the presentation explain the inter-relations between the stakeholders i.e. Perpetrator, Victim, and Guardian The second conducts violer con the victims in any of the ways explained above and the guardians which include parents, elder persons, police try to provide justice to the victims. There are many cases where the relationship between the victim and the perpetrator are very closed and guardians are even perpetrators. Some of the examples of such situations include master-servant, work place exploitation etc.

The third part of the presentation elaborated various stakeholders responsible for providing justice to the victims and their role. The main such stakeholders are family members of the victims, court, police, social & news media, and third-party stakeholders like NGOs and hackers. All of have their own important roles to play in access to the justice of gender-based violence victims in the digital space.

The fourth part of the presentation explained prominent challenges in ensuring justice to the victims of gender-based violence in the digital space. Such challenges highlighted by Prof. Halder include social mindset not allowing the cases to be reported and defaming the image of the victims; issues with the existing laws; undefined jurisdiction in case of violence in digital space; and victims' irrational coping techniques.

The fifth and final part of the presentation provided crucial suggestions in ensuring justice to the victims which include awareness about such violence and rights of victims; collaboration among different stakeholders responsible for providing justice to the victims as mentionedabove; legalizations of issues; a need for properly trained and efficient police officers handing cases related to violence cases in digital space; and criminalization.

Moderator: Ms Shilpa BSL: Thank you very much Mam for wonderful presentation. Now I call Dr SanjayMangla, HOD Department of Economics for giving Vote of Thanks.

Resource person Dr. Karnika Seth, Cyber Law Expert, Supreme Court of India Moderator addressing the participants in one Day National Research Webinar held on November 6, 2020.

Dr. Karnika Seth in her presentation emphasized about the legal framework and the major laws that protect women rights in India and particularly with regards to online media such as Information and Technology Act, 2000, POCSO Act, indecent representation of women's act, IPC and many more different provisions that protects the rights of women when it comes to sexual or online harassment.

Further, she talked about current redressal mechanism and mentioned that we may have a number of laws in the country but enforcement is a huge challenge. When it comes to enforcement, various layers are to be taken into notice, number one layer is the hesitation to report the matter as there is a fear it becoming a social stigma as the mindset hasn't changed. Then secondly, once the report is made, a helpline is contacted or a police officer is contacted. Such police officer needs to be well trained to understand the sections applicable and he/she must immediately take action on it. There is need for constant training of these law enforcement officers. There have been legal aid and special legal aid cells created in every court where a woman who cannot afford to pay a fee is given a free legal aid as well through state legal authorities and in every state there's a lot being done in terms of the spreading awareness and helping them get a legal redressal. She then elaborated the term revenge porn. By that term she meant sexting, bullying and trolling. According to her, there is need for newer laws to stop fake news against women, content which is defamatory to her or duplication of content which is obscene in nature. Although, all that can we stop that through DNA photo hash mechanism, or through various techniques such as AI, facial recognition technology or data mining ard data analytic resources and technical tools available. These tools can not only just been used to make commercial gains but also for the purpose and foresting law enforcement mechanic more effectively.

Next part of the presentation provided knowledge about most recent landmark judgments by honorable Supreme Court. Dr. Karnika talked about the Vishakha judgment and how the sexual harassment against women looked before Vishaka judgment and then later on how it transformed. She talked about the guidelines and the new act which was enabled to empower women to actually voice their concerns and voice their problems and the crimes which have been perpetrated against them and how they have been protected from a lot of problems and crimes with the help of the new laws. Also she enlightened us how women were also given equal status as a coparcener recently and daughters have been given the same rights as men have and the way the Supreme Court has tried to create gender parity. Then she discussed the swami case, after which, any person will think twice before actually putting a hidden webcam somewhere in a shopping mall. Although it is really common to hear about the hidden webcam that somebody has put.

Dr. Seth also enlightened us about what is the way forward in terms of loop holes and how we need to address these issues. Furthermore, she talked about the hesitation of using the technology which now has gone, whether it's older people or older generation or the new generation. And this technology is a huge powerful tool for entrepreneurship for women for education and one must embrace technology but one also be diligent in how he/she handle it and how it must be used and protection from various attacks which are possible or threats which are there online is a must. Therefore, if one is a victim of cyber crime or a known person has become a victim of cyber-crime and must report it. Secondly, one must have a mindset that he/she needs to collect evidence, whatever is there, sometimes one deletes it in a rush and doesn't want to report or simply destroy the gadget, but such things shall not to be done because then one cannot prove the wrong that has been done to him. Thirdly, one needs to understand that they are entitled to their rights as much as anybody else is, so they must take a stand for themselves. Fourthly, one must have faith in the system as there are mechanisms available for their help. There are women helpline numbers. NCW is there and there are other organizations one can always get support from and then there is free legal aid as well. And lastly, there must be awareness because unless the awareness reaches everybody the mindsets will not change and when the mindsets don't change the step two doesn't come into the picture.

She discussed the important provisions of Information Technology Act like Section 67 which makes circulation, selling, distribution of obscene material a punishable offence with a formation up to 3 years of imprisonment and fine of Rs.500". Also Section 67A which says that VIOSTOR publishes/transmits in electrical form any material which could be security and the security of the security o PIN NO conduct shall be punished with imprisonment of 5 years and fine which may extend to 10 lakh rupees. Apart from that, the speaker defined the Revenge Porn, when a person willingly publishes, circulate, distributes or prints any obscene or sexually explicit material without the consent of the person either to shame the victim or to lower his reputation. The motive behind is vengeance. The offender is booked under Section 66E of the Information Technology Act which states "whoever intentionally captures, publishes, distributes or transmits the image of a private area of a person without his/her consent under circumstances violating the privacy of that person, shall be punished with imprisonment which may extend to 3 years or fine not exceeding 5 lakh rupees or both."

Lastly she summed up in nutshell that the Indian Penal Code and the Information Technology Act do not cover all the cyber offences against women. There is hesitation among women to report a crime. Most vigorous arrangement is required. The training of judges is required. Many a times, women are not even aware of the laws that could protect their rights. Most of the cybercrimes cases go unreported. The law is not the solution to all the problems. There even lack separate provisions for various cybercrimes. The women themselves need to come out and report the crimes for the laws to help. With the steep increase in the number of cybercrimes against women, there needs to be stricter laws against such crimes and proper implementation of the laws should be looked into.

Technical Session 5 : 'Gender Based Violence – Issues and Concerns' Time : 3:15 PM - 4:00 PM

Speaker: Dr Pavan Duggal, Cyber Expert, Supreme Court of India

Moderator Ms Shilpa: This session 'Gender Based Violence – Issues and Concerns' will be delivered by the Dr Pavan Duggal, an internationally celebrated Cyber law and Cyber security subject expert. Now, I invite Dr Pavan Duggal for the last technical session of the National Research Webinar to high light 'Issues and concerns pertaining to gender- based violence.

Resource person Dr Pavan Duggal, Cyber Expert, Supreme Court of India addressing the participants in one Day National Research Webinar held on November 6, 2020.

As a human being, one tends to reveal their deepest secrets in this dark layer of internet which promises us a platform of anonymity. And thus, tempting people to employ it as a platform to vent out their revenge and harass people. At a global level, steps need to be taken to protect the digital integrity of women and children from stalking, online abuse, pornography, etc. India requires a new legislation that is wholly dedicated to cyber security. Indian Cyber law is miles behind the realities of Social media and there is a need to amend the Information Technology Act, 2000 to put it in sync with the requirements of times. The Information and Technology Act, 2000 was completely silent about women protection and child pornography on the online platform. Though the Information Technology Act was revised, but cyber bullying, stalking, cyber trolling, cyber harassment against women and children, etc. are still left unattended. There is an exponential increase in cybercrime activities and massive growth in cyber security breaches during Covid-19 which had put the last nail on the coffin on this existing gloomy picture. Thus, the onus of frame more responsible laws has become all the more trees. The Government's move to a d the Information Technology Act, 2000 is not Director. Every stakeholder has to small bit to protect women and Madren who are studies ture face of our courter the state of the ontribute t Sector-22, Rohini, Delhi-86

Duggal's extremely lucid session ended on a positive note that we need to put our best foot forward to make the cyber space a safe platform for one and all. Towards the end of the session, Dr Duggal emphatically stressed that test convictions and deterrent messages can play a constructive role in managing the issue of gender - based violence in digital space.

Development, National Commission for Women. She is presently serving as a Deputy Director General in Department of Telecommunications, Delhi .Now I invite Vandana Madam for Valedictory Address. At the outset she said that the organizers has selected a burning topic which is the need of the hour. We keep on hearing terms like cyber bullying or online harassment, but these terms do not include the serious and horrifying experiences the victims or survivors undergo due to cyber-crime or violence. Cyber-crime is very threatening and farreaching. Very important stakeholders in the digital landscape of the gender-based violence are internet intermediaries or the service providers yet are reluctant to have guidelines to govern the acts on internet. Which proves to be hazardous and especially women therefore, intermediaries have to be roped in and made responsible for curbing the gender- based violence in the digital space in order to promote for Right to Privacy and Data Protection norms. She further highlighted that content regulation may sometimes put freedom of expression in question but consent is important in this regard. Right to online anonymity should be maintained and service providers should take consent from internet users before using their data anywhere in context to personal public data or commercialize data PSP/ ecosystem should developed in such a mannentectopower women, children are minoritie rather than subjugating them. State must have due diligence in cyber-crime using the 5Ps namely Prevention of online violence, Protection of victims or survivors, Prosecution or Punishment of perpetrators, Provision of redress, and the last reparation of victims or survivors. Prosecution must be very stringent. The prosecution system should not further harass the victims. Cyber cells should there in every district at least one in each with trained staff which needs to sensitize and trained from psychosocial angel of the crime. Out of all the stakeholder's internet intermediaries must play the biggest role in curbing gender- based violence in the digital space. If these steps are taken, then gender-based violence in the digital space controlled.

Observations & Conclusions

National Research Webinar on Gender-Based Violence in Digital Space organized by Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Management Studies in collaboration with National Commission for Women – a one day event with interactive sessions, lectures and casespecific discussions was concluded on a positive note with various observations and over arching conclusions in hand:

of Managemet Studies Sector-22, Rohini, Delhi-86

- A better understanding of structural inequalities towards women in digital space.
- Deeper insight into the types of violence in the digital space viz. text based, voice based, image based, and audio-visual based and procedural guidelines, specifically from the lay man point of view.
- It was observed during the interactive session that the public or lay man (notrelated to legal studies) have many basic misconceptions regarding the redressal mechanism.

However, the program successfully dealt with many of such misconceptions, givinga better understanding and awareness regarding online violence and related laws.

- A deeper awareness was instilled through interactive sessions regarding legal framework and the major laws that protect women rights in India and particularly with regards to online media such as Information and Technology Act, 2000, POCSO Act, indecent representation of women's act, IPC and many more different provisions that protects the rights of women when it comes to sexual or online harassment.
- There was a very strong response rate observed amongst the participants during the sessions and interactions.
- The participants were observed to be very interactive with an active instinct of response.
- The mix of methodologies used with interactive sessions worked out better results for the daylong event, making it more practical, attractive, and result oriented, efficient in output and effective.
- With strong feedback received from the participants we plan to chalk out the events with many other new methodologies involved making it even more effective results and positive innovations suggested for better execution of the desired objectives.

Financial Condition of Young Entrepreneur during COVID - 19Pandemic & Importance of Financial Management in Life

Date: Saturday, October 31, 2020

Resource Person: Mr. Samar Vijay, Entrepreneur

Number of participants : 51

Event Report Arthanomics - The Economics Society of MAIMS On 31 October 2020, the students of Arthanomics -The Economics Society of Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Management Studies organized a webinar themed Financial Condition of Young Entrepreneur during COVID - 19 Pandemic & Importance of Financial Management in Life' on Google Meet. The guest speaker for the event was Mr. Samar Vijay, an acclaimed financial advisor and entrepreneur, and author of educational and insightful books, 'Tryst with Money'and 'In Control of Money'. The event was graced by all the faculty members and saw participation from many students that were keen to get an insight into the current dynamics of the financial situation of the Indian economy. He highlighted that during the COVID-19, young entrepreneurs with a younger business were more faced more challenges than those with an older business .He discussed that young entrepreneurs were most concerned with finding new customers as the top reported challenge during COVID-19.He also mentioned that accessing startup and growth financing during pandemic was the another most faced challenge by young entrepreneurs with a new business .There were 51 participants who attended the webinar.

In the second part of the session Mr Samir on the path of recovery for different countries from the catastrophic punch of Covid-19 on economic life globally, a critical question, then, arises as to how are we supposed to move forward in an era that sharply contrasts the life before the pandemic? Mr. Samar eloquently expressed his idea of how crucial it is to retire from the perspective of an erstwhile economy to be able to move forward in our pursuit of economic growth. Since the trajectory in such conditions of pandemic is unknown, the speaker highlighted how we can equip ourselves by tracing back to the historical economic shocks and scrutinizing the patterns of recession and recovery to perceive the path ahead. He accentuates the importance of adapting according to the needs of the changing times, be it by learning to work independently or by acquiring new skills. With society shifting gears so fast, he urged everybody to be optimistic and look beyond the crisis, and view this as an opportunity because that is what will pace us forward as an economy. Overall, it was an engaging andinteractive session, and the students were able to discern various noteworthy facets of the economic erisis.

ENTREPRENEURSHIP WEBINAR ON "HATCH FROM SCRATCH" September 30, 2020 Platform: G-meet

Resource Person: Mr. Gundeep Singh, Myntra No. of Participants: 73

"Entrepreneurship is an essential life skill and it's never too soon to get started."

Entrepreneurship is important as it has the ability to improve standards of living and create wealth, not only for the entrepreneurs, but also for related businesses. Entrepreneurs also help drive change with innovation, where new and improved products enable new markets to be developed The path towards entrepreneurship and an entrepreneurial mindset can be pursued by anyone, but the problem is how to start. To apprise the students with practical insights, Bizmind, The Ecell of Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Management Studies organized a webinar "Hatch from Scratch" on September 30, 2020 by Mr. Gundeep Singh. Mr. Gundeep Singh, currently working with Myntra is an alumnus of Columbia University, pursuing a management degree in Entrepreneurship, innovation and strategy from Harvard University. He has been a TEDx speaker and a keynote speaker at institutions like IIT, IMA, etc. Besides listening to podcasts, Mr. Gundeep Singh, Myntra is an avid skier, lover horse riding and also maintains an adventure list. But what he holds close to his heart is having been the youngest to scale the Pindari Glacier.

The programme had the delightful presence of Prof. G. P. Govil, Advisor MATES, Dr. Manju Gupta, HOD, Department Commerce, faculty members and students of MAIMS. The programme opened with Dr. Manju Gupta, welcoming one and all. All the organizers and the participants were highly motivated by the address of Prof. Dr. Gyan Govil, who shared a part of what he knows and thinks about entrepreneurship with the people present. He also congratulated the team of Bizmind for the successful launch of the 'Bizshow'. With experience comes knowledge. He gave the people of the house a small glimpse of that knowledge by sharing his thoughts on the matter with them. According to him, "Dreams aren't those which you see in your sleep, by those which don't let you sleep". He also shared some incidences from the lives of great people, who became great not because of their natural talent or luck but because of their will to never give up.

The highlight of the event is the inauguration of the Bizshow, brainchild of students of BIZMIND by launching their inaugural video. BIZSHOW is a video series which promises to focus on different facets of this world that we live in. The basic idea behind every video is to analyze the situation through a business angle. And that is what makes the videos interesting! The theme of the video was the business idea behind the launch of CORONA Vaccine.

Mr. Gundeep Singh, Myntra is a personality with immense knowledge about business. The name of the seminar 'Hatch from Scratch' is of his own making. According to him, the first step in the process of starting a business is an idea. The idea is the beginning of everything. He said that there is seldom any eureka moments in a wannabe entrepreneur's life. Most of the time he/she has to improvise and then execute the idea. He took a very fun example of harry porter's magic wand. He told the people that when thinking about the idea, use the figurative wand of Harry's and make all the problems vanish. When you do that you get a clear idea. He used the example of companies like Dropbox and OYO to expound on his point. He also talked about a few models through which people can get ideas to start a business. One such notable model is the disruptive model. A disruptive model, according to the speaker, is a business model that employs a strategy for creating new business markets by improving upon or making a change to existing business model. In the course of the growth of these new markets, it eventually uproots established businesses, also called incumbents. He put forth the following points too:

- Short listing the Idea: Short list the ideas to choose from.
- Devil's advocate: At this stage become the devil's advocate and question everything about your idea.
- Validate the Idea: Get the proper validation for the idea.
- Get ready to market: Get ready to market your idea. Marketing is what gets your product sold.

Total 73 students participated in the webinar with great zeal and enthusiasm. The audience was very pleased with the speaker's systematic way of putting forth his ideas and then expounding on them. Because of the speaker's communication skills and the way of presentation, the audience participation was staggering to say the least. Almost every other person had a question of his own. And what can we say, the speaker tried to sate the thirst for knowledge of his audience to his level best. The speaker also talked about his own startup-Honcho, an app which helps people in a group make important decisions. He also conducted a quick exercise to challenge the audience and make the program more interactive. All in all, the webinar was a huge success, and audience was delighted by the value addition the webinar provided.

WEBINAR ON 'CAREERS IN FINANCE AND RESEARCH' September 13, 2020 Resource Person: Mr. Alok Sharma, Head, Career Launcher FinSchool No. of Participants: 48

Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Management Studies is constantly endeavoring to expose the faculty and students in their future pursuit. In this direction, Finversion, the finance society of MAIMS, organized a webinar on the topic 'Careers in Finance and Research' in collaboration with career launcher. The webinar was conducted using the digital platform, ZOOM https://zoom.us/j/92726109736 at 4:30 pm on Sunday, September 13, 2020.

The webinar was graced by leading expert from the industry to offer valuable guidance to the students of MAIMS on the various courses like NCFM, CFA, FRM and finance curriculum in different universities. The students who seek to join their family business or are planning their own startups in the future, gained immensely from the knowledge shared. This webinar also gave intellectual confidence to the participants who aspire to invest in the stock market.

The eminent speaker of the webinar; Mr. Alok Sharma, Head, Career Launcher FinSchool. He is an expert in the field of FINANCE. He also specializes in financial risk management program, with unmatched knowledge about FRM®exam and has trained several corporates in risk management.

The speaker talked about broad divisions of finance an individual can work in, like investment banking, corporate finance, public accounting etc. The speaker also briefly explained about portfolio management and it's sub divisions and also provided the participants knowledge on the banking sector and its sub division and how you can get an opportunity to work in that sector.

The session paved light on the fact that almost all top universities have identical curriculums. Mr. Alok Sharma, Head, Career Launcher FinSchool showed us this similarity in his presentation by comparing 5 universities and the finance courses they offer which were: london business school (masters in financial analysis), Carnegie mellon university (masters in finance), singapore management university (masters of science in quantitative finance), massachusetts institute of technology (masters of science in finance) and indian school of business.

The speaker rightly explained that how these dynamic courses are far more applicable and new and how they equip us with more real time applicable techniques. At the end of the session the

REPORT WEBINAR ON ENTREPRENEURSHIP AND SCOPE OF CREATIVITY IN MODERN ERA

September 12, 2020 Resource Person: Mr. Sanil Sachar, Author and Filmmaker No. of Participants: 68

Compact-the Commerce Society of Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Management Studies organized a webinar on "Entrepreneurship and scope of Creativity in Modern Era" on September 12, 2020. It started at sharp 3:00 PM and our guest speaker for the same was Mr. Sanil Sachar, Author and Filmmaker via Google Meet. The session was attended by 68 students from Department of Business Administration and Department of Commerce.

Our society's president, Vanshika Gilhotra gave the welcome address following which the introduction to our speaker was given by our host, Manasvi Khanna. Mr. Sanil Sachar, Author and Filmmaker is a national best-selling author from India with four books, traversing through prose, poetry, short-stories, scripts and couplets, that have been critically acclaimed and received by readers around the world. With over 200 works of published poetry and short-stories, Sachar is one of the few Indian authors to be published in all forms of literature.

Known for his work on realism, Sanil Sachar, Author and Filmmaker has coproduced the New York Film Festival award-winning Bollywood film, Mantra, as part of his love and contribution to the world of art. Often writing about realism, Sachar writes his work in the early hours of the morning, in order to create work unhindered by external thoughts. A founding partner of Huddle, a leading incubator in New Delhi, India, which has incubated over 30 sector agnostic startups in the consumer, blockchain, electric vehicle and health sectors, he is also of the coowners of the global sports brand Tru, under which Trusox which is the brands patented high-technology performance socks are worn across 9 sports and across the globe.

Soon after the introduction, our guest speaker launched our e-newsletter – Vanijya. A summarized version of what was covered in this edition of the news was shown through screen sharing done by Anushaar Goel while Nikit Kainal harrated the various business stories covered in the covered at agery as mentioned below.

Our newsletter Vanijya which translates to commerce covers various commerce and business stories around the world. In this edition we have covered the news till mid-September. Firstly, we have covered the main news of the month as our cover story which is none other than that of GDP contraction in India. We have covered the reason for contraction, sectors affected by the contraction, comparative study of India with other countries around the world and how the government is taking measures on it.

Moving on to our first category i.e., Vyapar which covers the business news of the month. In this edition we did an analysis of the relief package of ₹20 lakh crores announced by the government under the Atamnirbhar Bharat Abhiyan. We also did an analysis of industries moving to India during this pandemic and how India can take advantage of this situation by seeking foreign investments.

An advertisement of the book written by our speaker Mr Sanil Sachar, Author and Filmmaker was then shown to the audience. Then we had our bazaar column which covers the stock market and investment news. In this edition we have covered the biggest news of the market which is of Reliance and Jio. We have explained the various investments worth 21$ billion by various companies in India's Jio platform. We have included a timeline explaining the same.

Lastly, we have our success mantra column in which we will cover the story of a successful entrepreneur each month. In this edition we have covered the success story of Mr. Vijay Shekhar Sharma the founder of Paytm.

This launch was followed by the speaker's address to the audience wherein he shared his experience while attending various webinars during Covid-19. The conversation was then carried forward by a Question-Answer segment wherein various audience members participated and got a chance to get their queries answered. Some of the thoughts shared by the speaker in response to the questions raised by the audience are briefly mentioned in the following paragraph.

The session started with Mr. Sanil Sachar, Author and Filmmaker discussing about how the criticism he received on his work made him realize that he wanted to become and had the potential to become a writer and how the mere idea of challenging himself became his inspiration to write a book. He also mentioned that inspiration comes from passion which is the hunger to learn and to be better. Next, he talked about the struggles that he faced while building a business model and said that the biggest challenge was to be amastally prepared for injection with first of of Management Studies Sector-22, Rohini, Delhi-86 anything that we do is built from rejection. He also discussed about what incubation is and what an incubator does.

Then he talked about success being a mythical mountain that has no end to it. He also encouraged everyone to try and conquer small milestones, calling success as a whole a glorified term. On being asked about how important it is for a writer to read, Mr. Sachar said that only 10-15% of how much you write is what you should read, that too in order to get to know about different styles of writing. He also discussed about how reading a book backwards can help in reading faster. He then talked about his upcoming novel "And… Perhaps love" and his company TruSox.

To quote him "A new normal has replaced the established order. Distant relationships, virtual work, blurred futures and measuring our way back to this reality occupy us every day". Negotiating these changes, Mr. Sanil Sachar's "And . . . Perhaps Love" will work as your companion. It is a silent observer for when you want to read it, and a patient listener when you wish to communicate with it. Capturing the ideas of love, darkness and the attempt to find balance in life, this is a book for now and forever. Set in 2020, "And…Perhaps Love" is a book written in a manner to help each reader become the protagonist, with over 50 ways to read the book, leading to a common ending, it is a book, made with a new approach during the new normal. The session ended with Mr. Sanil Sachar talking about his favorite writer Mitch Albom and some of his famous works 'Tuesdays with Morrie' and 'Five people you meet in heaven'.

After thanking Mr. Sanil Sachar, Author and Filmmaker for answering each question so enthusiastically, our moderator for the event, Nikita Kaimal, invited Ishika Gupta to give the Vote of Thanks. She also informed the audience about the procedure to subscribe to our newsletter. The event was graced with presence of dignitaries from our college and the society's faculty coordinators. After conveying our sincere gratitude to all those present in the Webinar, we ended the meeting as per schedule at 4:00PM.

REPORT

WEBINAR ON 'COVID – 19: CHANGING DIMENSIONS OF CORPORATE FRAUDS'

Date: Saturday, September 05, 2020 Resource Person: Dr. Sanjeev Gupta, Company Secretary Number of Participants: 70

Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Management Studies is constantly endeavoring to expose the faculty and students in their future pursuit. In this direction, under the Aegis of IQAC; Department of Commerce & Department of Business Administration of MAIMS joined hands together and organized a webinar on the topic' COVID – 19: CHANGING DIMENSIONS OF CORPORATE FRAUDS'. The webinar was conducted using the digital platform, ZOOM and YouTube Live http://www.youtube.com/c/MAIMSDelhiIN at 5: 00 pm on Saturday, September 05, 2020.

The webinar was graced by leading expert from the industry to offer valuable guidance to the faculty and students of MAIMS on the various issues with respect to corporate frauds. The students who seek to join their family business or are planning their own startups in the future, gained immensely from the knowledge shared. This webinar also gave intellectual confidence to the participants who aspire to invest in the stock market.

The eminent speaker of the webinar; Dr. Sanjeev Gupta, M.COM and LLB from Delhi University completed his Ph.D. from MD University, Rohtak, on his thesis, titled, "Corporate Frauds in India-Nature, Consequences and Regulations". He became an associate member of the Institute of Company Secretaries of India (ICSI) in the year 1994 and is a Fellow Member of the ICSI since 2001. He has been practicing as a company secretary with his firm "Sanjeev Gupta & Associates" since 1998. He has authored two books viz., Company Law Procedures & Compliances (2 Vol.) andCorporate Frauds & their Regulations in India.

The speaker talked about the changes in the needs of individual (from primary to secondary) that is an important motivating factor driving individuals towards Frauds. He also discussed the types of frauds that are most common in the corporate world. He provided practical insights to attendees around not only the issues of corporate frauds but also the modus operandi of frauds before and duringCOVID -19.

The session paved light on the fact that Corporate Fraud is not a new term; it has just changed its dimension during this pandemic. He discussed many examples of Corporate Frauds like; the McDonald's Case (2001); the Delhi Airport Scam (2008); the Coalgate Scam (2012); the Rajat Gupta Case (2012); the KFC case (2012); the Tata Consultancy Services Scam (2013); the Pearls Agrotech Corporation Limited Scam (2015); the Kingfisher Scam (2015); the Bank of Baroda Case (2015) etc.

The speaker rightly explained that the crisis of COVID – 19 might provide fertile ground for frauds. The combination of financial and health threats makes people more vulnerable and creates opportunities for these fraudsters. It was an enlightening session wherein the speaker also discussed the legislations related to fraues in India. Fraudulent provide fertile ground always attract negative results; this aspect was highlighted by the speaker when the measures of corporate fraud. He also outlined and creates the speaker when the measures of the build a robust mechanism to preventfrauds during these testing times.

be nurtured and flourished. Prof. Kanagasabapathi mentioned the rich business legacy prevalent in India and the capacity and capability of Indians in making India Self Reliant even today by quoting examples of Diamond business in Surat and the four-month development and transformation of being exports of PPE kits for healthcare workers from being imports of the same four months back.

The second session of day-1 titled "Entrepreneurship Society" started with an interaction between key speaker Mr. Tulsi Tawari, Author- Global economics & ShubhLabh and D. Balasubramaniam (Financial Strategist, Active in India & Phillipines). Mr. Tulsi elaboratedon the pivotal role of entrepreneurs as pioneering entrepreneurs and knowledge entrepreneurs.

Dr. Amit Kumar Dwivedi, Associate Professor, EDII, Ahmedabad initiated his address by throwing light on education system and ideology followed in the past. Dr. Dwivedi shared some facts about downfall in the India's contribution towards world's GDP and elaborated on the reasons for the such downfall. Dr. Nisha Jindal proposed the vote of thanks and expressed gratitude towards all the eminent speakers and the participants. Day 1 of workshop ended with enlightenment and zeal in the minds of the participants.

Dr. Amit Kumar Dwivedi started his speech with a thought that this is the best time to empower and develop ourselves due to the spread of COVID-19 and implementation of lockdown almost all over the world. He told everyone that he will be discussing some research findings, historical aspects of family business and what can be done in the field of succession in a family business.

Sh. Suriyemani Singh explained the Self-Reliance concept as mentioned by Prime Minister Modi was mentioned by the speaker. Unless until individuals become self-reliant. The concept of Self-Reliance starts from the individual. Therefore, unless the mindset of entrepreneurship is installed in the individual the pathway of Self-Reliance will not be achievable. Mr. Prashant Kumar Sinha took over from here, he started by talking about innovation, which he further explained to be a very complicated attempt with uncertainties, where diverse economic and social factors are complexly related, and its outcome is impossible to predict. Prof. S.K. Bhatt gave wonderful information about the business incubators, Ms. Sakshi Gupta welcomed Prof. S.K. Bhatt. Prof. S.K. Bhatt started by thanking everyone and especially Mr. Tiwari for inviting him. He said that the entrepreneurs should know that which type of project they have to choose so he talked about the various types of project namely industrial project which includes micro and special project units, medium-scale units and large units, service-oriented projects, tourism-related projects, and so on.

The next speaker was Mr. Neeraj Kumar who explained that the government's initiative of selfreliant India is not beneficial just for the citizens but is very important for the economy of the country as a whole. "The entrepreneur's main problem is finances," said the speaker. Ms. Sakshi Gupta, the host of the day, thanked our last speaker of the session saying "Being an entrepreneur, male or female, in any part of the world is always a challenge.

On third day, the first speaker was Mr. Tulsi Tiwari. He discussed about the notion and concept of money and how it is affecting our lives in a very big way. Then shortage of capital into the country and how it gives rise to foreign direct investment.

The next speaker, Mr. Bala then started presenting his ideas. He said that we have technology which is innovative and we use it to create monopolies. We need to start spending more on advertising because we're trying to use technology to cut down other required overheads like mechanization. At the same time, we do automation saying that it controls cost but then we increase expenditure on marketing by capturing the market.

Mr. Raja rejoined the conversation and continued by taking a point raised by the previous speaker. He talked about the technology landscape over the last few years, where it hasn't shown much change except among the technocrats and people who use it on large scale. The perception has been that technology aids the concentration of economic power and said technology is capital intensive and costly and therefore is in the hands of the owners of capital. And if this leads to concentration of economic power, then it will also lead to all the ills mentioned earlier by Mr. Tulsi namely manipulation, speculation, parasitic destruction, wealth destruction and what we see today is a sort of cannibalistic culture. Ms. Sakshi Gupta invited Ms. Usha Nair to give the concluding remarks on final session of Day 2 of three-day workshop. She expressed her big thanks to all respected speakers.

The third day of the Workshop on "Entrepreneurship as a Pathway to Make India Self- Reliant" equally enlightening and offered a highly learning and interactive experience to the participants. The day started with an introductory session by Dr. Rudresh Pandey, National Co Convenor, KIF & professor, ABES, Ghaziabad. Dr. Pandey emphasized on the role of Indian traditional knowledge in developing Entrepreneurial skill in Indians. Dr. Pandey elaborated the embedded psychology of Cycle of Creation, Cycle of Preservation, Cycle of Destruction represented by Brahama, Vishnu and Shiva respectively.

The key note speaker, Dr. Jayaseelan Ganesan, Consultant, Entrepreneurship Development services (EDSER), IIM Calcutta enlightened participants on two major topics of first-generation entrepreneurs and the support system needed by them. Dr. Ganesan elaborated on the problems faced by first generation entrepreneurs including infrastructural issues, financial issues, information issues etc and the related support services required.

Mr. Ramesh Kumar Barpa, Assistant Professor, SSCBS, University of Delhi, mentioned the Five Pillars of Atmanirbhar Bharat as Economy, Infra, System, Vibrant demography and Demand. Mr. Ramesh focussed on the importance of Business opportunity identification and knowing yourself, your natural environment, communal environment and identifying a match between your knowledge and opportunity.

Dr. Radhakrishnan Pillai, Professor, University of Mumbai delivered a wonderful and thought provoking session on four formulas of Chanakya to be a good leader. Mr. Ramesh Aggarwal, Founder, Aggarwal Packers and Movers ltd (APML) shared his experience of being an entrepreneur in the most humbled manner. Mr. Aggarwal mentioned four major pillars to be a successful entrepreneur.

Prof S. K Garg, Director General, MAIMS delivered the welcome address for the valedictory session and mentioned the importance of favourable national education policy and emphasis on child hood learning in the native language, and focus on skill development as an important part of higher education. Sir emphasized that effective implementation of such policies will provide the better utilization of human resources for the growth of the nation. Prof. S.S. Deswal, Dean Academics, MAIT presented the vote of thanks for the event. Prof. Deswal, expressed his gratitude towards participants and organizing team for the successful completion of the workshop. Mr. Ajit Tiwari, Founder Director, KIF also expressed his gratitude towards everyone. The workshop offered an unequalled learning experience for the participants and faculty. The event concluded on a high note and enthusiasm.

Participants: 450 registrations

Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Management Studies under the aegis of its visionary, generous and most distinguished Management had undertaken the initiative of organizing one day International Conference on the very contemporary topic of 'Global Economic Order in the Post Covid-19 Era: Challenges, Opportunities, and Strategies", under the Aegis of IQAC on July 25, 2020, through an online platform.

It was a matter of great pride for all of us at MAIMS to host this International Conference, in a world where everyone is witnessing a completely unimagined situation since the very beginning of the year 2020. Apart from billions of people being locked in their homes due to global health emergency arisen from the spread of deadly disease COVID-19, all the economic activities ranging from agriculture to service have been almost stopped causing the ever-highest decline in the global gross domestic product (GDP), however, internet-based technology has emerged as a big support to continue some of the activities in this tough time.

The objective of the International Conference was to provide a wider platform to academicians, researchers, industrialists, policymakers, and students to present and discuss their views and original research outcomes on various sectors and regions being affected from COVID-19 which would, in turn, generate a guiding book to get our growth back.

We received approximately 450 registrations, about 220 Research Papers for presentation with almost 350 authors. In this International Conference, we had participation not only from different quarters of India but also from different countries such as Australia, Canada, Oman, and many others. We had a massive and diverse representation from academia, research sector, industrial and training sectors.

The International Conference comprised 4 Sessions including the Inaugural and Valedict sessions. These sessions were graced by the presence of various terminent dignitaries resource persons, namely:

The Chief Guest of the Inaugural Session, Prof. Sector Aggarwal, Chairman, National Board of

Workshop on 'Creating Awareness among Public regarding Prevention of Financial Frauds & Intellectual Property Rights' - Thursday, July 16, 2020

Date: July 16, 2020

Resource Persons: Mr S.S.K. Pradhan, General Manager, RBI; Mr Jaikar Mishra, Assistant General Manager, RBI; Ms. R.K. Meena, RBI; Ms. Veena Kumari, SEBI; Ms Nanda ICAI; Mr Pawan Kumar, SBI cards; Mr Jatinder Thakar, Paytm and Mr. Charanjot Nanda, ICAI.

Participants: 362

MAIMS was established in 2003 by Maharaja Agrasen Technical Education Society. The society has got success in establishing institutions of repute in Medical, Management, Law, Engineering and Journalism. The Institute has attained a distinct position in running BBA, B. Com (Hons.), BA (Eco) (Hons.), BA(JMC) and BALLB(Integrated) programs of Guru Gobind Singh Indraprastha University, Delhi.

We realize that in present times the disruptive digital transformation of banking services and the impact of Open Banking drives greater competition and choice for all. But it also opens new doors and presents opportunities to defraud and trick bank customers. To sensitize the faculty and students about the gimmicks used by financial fraudsters to dupe common man, MAIMS organized a webinar on 'Creating Awareness among Public regarding Prevention of Financial Frauds & Intellectual Property Rights on July 16, 2020. This programme was organized by Delhi Police jointly with eminent resource persons from Reserve Bank of India (RBI), Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI), State Bank of India (SBI) online cards, Pension Fund Regulatory and Development Authority (PFRDA) and Institute of Charted Accountants of India (ICAI). The webinar saw the presence of Mr S.S.K. Pradhan, General Manager, RBI; Mr Jaikar Mishra, Assistant General Manager, RBI; Ms. R.K. Meena, RBI; Ms. Nanda ICAI; Mr Pawan Kumar, SBI cards; Mr Jatinder Thakar, Paytm and Mr. Charanjot Nanda, ICAI.

Mr. S.S.K. Pradhan, RBI began the session by apprising the audience with classification of frauds, based mainly on the provisions of the Indian Penal Code:

- a. Misappropriation and criminal breach of trust.
- b. Fraudulent encashment through forged instruments, manipulation of books of account or through fictitious accounts and conversion of property.
- c. Unauthorised credit facilities extended for reward or for illegal gratification.
- d. Negligence and cash shortages.
- e. Cheating and forgery.

- f. Irregularities in foreign exchange transactions.
- g. Any other type of fraud not coming under the pice field heads as above.

(A unit of Maharaja Agrasen Technical Education Society) Affiliated to GGSIP University; Recognized u/s 2(f) of UGC Recognized by Bar Council of India; ISO 9001: 2015 Certified Institution Maharaja Agrasen Chowk, Sector 22, Rohini, Delhi - 110086, INDIA Tel. Office: 8448186947, 8448186950 www.maims.ac.in

Mr Jaikar Mishra, RBI said that it has been observed that frauds are, at times, detected in banks long after their perpetration. Sometimes, fraud reports are also submitted to RBI with considerable delay and without complete information. On some occasions, RBI comes to know about frauds involving large amounts only through press reports. Banks should, therefore, ensure that the reporting system is suitably streamlined so that frauds are reported without any delay. Banks must fix staff accountability in respect of delays in reporting fraud cases to RBI.

Ms. R.K. Meena, RBI talked about the procedure to be followed while reporting of frauds to Reserve Bank of India. Fraud reports should be submitted in all cases of fraud of Rs. 1 lakh and above perpetrated through misrepresentation, breach of trust, manipulation of books of account, fraudulent encashment of instruments like cheques, drafts and bills of exchange, unauthorized handling of securities charged to the bank, misfeasance, embezzlement, misappropriation of funds, conversion of property, cheating, shortages, irregularities, etc. The fraud reports in soft copy format involving all categories of frauds and hard copy format involving frauds of Rs. 5 lakh and above should be sent to the Central Office (CO) as also the concerned Regional Office of RBI, Department of Banking Supervision, under whose jurisdiction the Head Office of the bank falls, in the format given in FMR - 1, within three weeks from the date of detection. However, fraud reports in hard copy format involving frauds of Rs. 1.00 lakh and above and less than Rs. 5.00 lakh should be sent to the concerned Regional Office of RBI, Department of Banking Supervision office of RBI, Department of Banking Copy format involving frauds of Rs. 1.00 lakh and above and less than Rs. 5.00 lakh should be sent to the concerned Regional Office of RBI, Department of Banking Copy format involving frauds of Rs. 1.00 lakh and above and less than Rs. 5.00 lakh should be sent to the concerned Regional Office of RBI, Department of Banking Copy format involving frauds of Rs. 1.00 lakh and above and less than Rs. 5.00 lakh should be sent to the concerned Regional Office of RBI, Department of Banking Supervision only.

Ms. Veena Kumari, SEBI in her session said that as digitally based services multiply so does the importance and stress placed on traditional methods to identify and fight fraud. Rules based, often reactive paper-based processes are no longer sufficiently agile and sophisticated enough to battle new types of fraud. Financial institutions must adopt new strategies and maximise new technologies-the smarter use of artificial intelligence, detection techniques and identity solutions.

Ms Nanda, ICAI started by stating that as fraudsters continue to evolve in sophistication, financial institutions continue to invest heavily in detection to try to prevent fraud and reduce losses. Unfortunately, despite your best efforts — fraud can and will happen. Managing fraud as it happens, and after losses occur, can be challenging for institutions. Often, it is the responsibility of siloed teams using separate systems and manual effort, to collect and analyze fraud case information.

Mr Pawan Kumar, SBI cards said that Credit card, debit card, ATM cards and banking frauds are on the rise. He explained in detail the alert messages shared by SBI in order to avoid card skimming frauds, such as:

- Do not hand over your SBI Card to anyone, including company representatives or friends.
- Cover your keypad while entering your PIN at a public place or ATM.
- Make sure that your card is used/swiped in your presence.
- Remember to collect your card after each transmitistic avoid theft. of Managemetistic avoid theft. Sector-22, Rohini, Delhi-86

- Do not disclose your PIN to anyone even if they claim to be SBI representative.
- Do not share your PIN, OTP, CVV and net banking user ID and password with anyone.

Mr Jatinder Thakar, Paytm said that mobile payments and banking has made it easy for us to pay, shop and save our money. Our lives are so much easier now. With advancements in technology, cyber-attack methods and tools have also changed from traditional vectors like malicious software and vulnerabilities to more ingenious scams that can be deployed from unexpected regions of the world. He explained some uncommon ways by which people using Paytm are duped, like, fake emergency phone calls, Vishing, Smishing, money mule, etc.

Mr. Charanjot Nanda, ICAI explained the meaning Intellectual Property Rights. He discussed that IPR is to keep and promote the development of new products and services based on the creation and management of inventions, trademarks, designs & creative content. He said that IPR manifests in diverse ways and refers to the creative content, sales and revenues among others, with a view to gaining monetarily from it. He focused on five important areas like copyrights, ethical rights, trademarks, patents, and trade secrets.

The session was very interactive and saw a registration of 362 participants, including faculty and students of MAIMS. The conscious audience raised many thought - provoking questions like Can someone hack my Paytm account? What is Paytm Cyber Cell? What is the difference between vishing and smishing? How to file a complaint against SBI credit card? How to dispute SBI transaction? What is accounting fraud? Etc.

In this insightful session the participants learnt that although fraud impact is well known in the merchant/card industry but how does it affect traditional bank payments in an increasingly open industry, where customer data moves more freely between institutions. It was indeed a valuable session wherein the participants gained awareness about the use of more productive strategies and proactive solutions to combat fraud.

REPORT STUDENTS' PERSONALITY DEVELOPMENT ACTIVITY ON 'HOW TO START YOUR ENTREPRENEURIAL JOURNEY OF YOUR STARTUP'

Date- Saturday, July 4, 2020 Resource Person- Mr. Saurabh Trivedi, Co- founder and Director at Boudhik Venture No. of Participants- 87

MAIMS has always taken concrete steps to work towards the holistic development of the students. The importance of the development of entrepreneurial skills by every graduate cannot be over-emphasized because gone are the days when jobs were available everywhere both in the private and public sector of the economy. Indeed, in the past, it was the employers who went round universities to hunt for potential employees. But the changing times have made many graduates desperate to get any job to keep body and soul going. Indeed, there is a paradigm shift in the labour market now. Realizing this change, Illuminate – The Learning Hub of Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Management Studies organized a webinar on 'How to start your entrepreneurial journey of your startup' on Saturday, July 4, 2020. The webinar was conducted using the digital platform, YouTube Live at 5: 00 pm. The resource person for the webinar was Mr. Saurabh Trivedi.

Mr. Saurabh Trivedi, a MAIMS Alumni, is an entrepreneur, intellectual property enthusiast, business consultant, investor and seasoned trademark attorney. He is currently the Co-founder and Director at Boudhik Venture. His expertise includes, Entrepreneurship Building, Consulting to universities/ incubation centers, Improvising brainstorming process of start-ups, IPR, Multi-disciplinary team building and Leadership.

Mr Trivedi initiated his talk by presenting the true, though gloomy picture of the changing employment prospects for the youths in the present times of increasing competition. At present, employment in the public sector is decreasing and job prospects are diminishing by the day. Added to this ugly situation are the increasing trend of job outsourcing, casualization of labour across industry and the increasing phenomenon of rightsizing of labour among big firms and corporations in the country. As a side effect, the figure of tertiary graduates who have not been able to secure the first employment since graduation for upward of five years is on the increase and even those with professional qualifications are not spared from the ugly phenomenon. Others are paid peanuts if they are lucky to secure paid job. So, what to do in this scenario. The answer – Become a Job Creator, rather than a Job Hunter!

Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Managemet Studies Sector-22, Rohini, Delhi-86

Having set the platform for the students to become entrepreneurs, he swiftly moved towards elaborating what does the entrepreneurship really entail? In his opinion, basically, entrepreneurship really entails: the building of skills in negotiation, building leadership skills, new product/service development, creative and innovative thinking and exposure to technological innovation. He also explained that some of the personal characteristics of an entrepreneur are optimism, vision, initiative, desire to lead, drive, persistence, risk tolerance and resilience. The role of creativity and thinking out of the box, rather change the box in the skill set of an entrepreneur was very aptly and lucidly presented by Mr. Trivedi in the webinar. The various steps to be taken to build your own venture and the concept of creative financing and crowd funding to finance one's start – up was also explained by our resource person.

The session was very interactive and total of 87 students participated in the webinar. The enthusiastic audience raised many thought - provoking questions like What are the expected challenges we are likely to face in our entrepreneurial journey? How can we mentally prepare our self for the likely setbacks? How to capitalize networking effectively to attain success in my entrepreneurial journey? How to check the feasibility of the new idea developed? Can creativity be improved? What is the role of venture capitalist in entrepreneurship development? etc.

It was indeed a valuable session wherein the take away would encourage participants to get involved in networking, create and manage businesses of their own and facilitate progress and success in entrepreneurial career. Nevertheless, entrepreneurship is the need for developing the requisite entrepreneurial skills which would make people not only to be job creators but also wealth creators. We are sure that the valuable insights would help our 'new entrepreneurs' get their ideas and ventures to the next level through the structured learning provided in the webinar.

NETWORKING FOR GLOBAL PROFESSIONALS & ENTREPRENEURS IN POST PANDEMIC WORLD

Day & Date- Sunday, June 14, 2020 Resource person- Ms. Nidhi Nagori, Senior Internal Auditor, Lincoln Electric, Canada No. of participants- 94

MAIMS has always taken concrete steps to work towards the holistic development of the students. We realize that in today's competitive world, where a student is running in a rat race to compete with the industry expectations, he/she always requires a platform where the skill and knowledge can be justified in the presence of industry personnel. To offer such a platform, Illuminate – The Learning Hub of Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Management Studies organized a webinar on 'Networking for Global Professionals & entrepreneurs in Post Pandemic World' on Sunday, June 14, 2020. The webinar was conducted using the digital platform, Zoom at 6: 30 pm.

The resource person for the webinar was Ms. Nidhi Nagori, Charted Accountant from India and Certified Public Accountant from the US. She is currently working in Canada for Lincoln Electric as a Senior Internal Auditor. Her work involves traveling to different countries, working with diverse range of people and transcending cultural barriers to create a healthy work environment for her team. She has developed her own Soft Skills & Communication Course called 'Bridging the Gap' to help professionals learn the ways of presenting their knowledge on a global platform. She conducts sessions about LinkedIn brand building for professionals. She is also the founder of Canada Peeps- a space for new immigrants looking to network. The groups currently have over 1000 active members.

Ms Nidhi Nagori started her interaction with the students by first explaining that networking is an excellent way to make professional connections, develop opportunistic relationships, and stay abreast of exciting career opportunities. Although the concept of developing business relationships through socializing may seem daunting, particularly for those who are new to the practice, networking is in fact very intuitive. She further introduced the concept of Global networking which is simply networking on an international scale. And thanks to modern technology such as computers, smartphones, and the internet, global networking has never been easier.

She further explored the etiquettes or the rules of collaborating and networking with people on one of a very popular global professional network platform, LinkedIn. She explained that people will judge you based on your profile as your profile is the first thing your new connection will look at. Writing specialized messages for the audience in one's profile, sending personal acknowledgements to people, using the power of groups to boost one's potential network were some of the important takeaways of the session. She also gave some of the valuable tips to students about building the right profile to leave one's (potential) connections with positive thoughts about self.

The session was very interactive and saw a presence of 94 participants. The enthusiastic audience raised many thought - provoking questions like How to use LinkedIn as a platform for searching for a job? What kind of posts should be sent by an individual? How to create the right personal brand on LinkedIn? How to use LinkedIn as the right platform for creating collaborations with respect to start-ups?

It was indeed a valuable session wherein the take away have helped the participants to identify the right means of introducing self to new people without the breach of etiquette that comes in blindly reaching out to new connections. The webinar will definitely help students to become familiar with the way LinkedIn works to build your network of professional relationships and take advantage of everything the platform has to offer.

Prof. Ravi Kumar Gupta, Director MAIMS felicitating ad welcoming the Resource persons S. Kardam, Dr. Claudia Masoni and Dr. Sunanda Bharti for The workshop on "IPR AND TRADITIONAL KNOWLEDGE: CONTEMPORARY ISSUES AND CHALLENGES

The workshop on "IPR AND TRADITIONAL KNOWLEDGE: CONTEMPORARY ISSUES AND CHALLENGES was organised by Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Management Studies, School of Law on February 27, 2020 in the Seminar Hall, block no. 7". The workshop was attended by 83 students from Department of Law.

The workshop was graced by dignitaries such as Prof. S.K. Garg, Prof. G.P. Govil, Prof. (Dr.) Ravi Kumar Gupta, Dr. Krishan. S. Kardam, Dr. Claudia Masoni and Dr. Sunanda Bharti. The workshop began by lightening the lamp and praying to goddess Ma Saraswati. The guests for the day were being welcomed by presentation of saplings and shawls.

The welcome address was presented by Prof. Garg, where he not only introduced the concept of IPR but also cited a tremendous example of 150 years back of two scientists one of whom belonged to Russia and the other one to Germany. The duo shared the same work and prepared the traditional periodic table but the Russian scientist got his work published 50 days prior to the work of the other scientist and his name is still recogonised as the founder of the traditional periodic table by Mendeleev, thus the importance of patenting could be traced from line back.

society for long. He mentioned about the Ramayana as it is believed that Ravana brought an airplane which was a source of invention and Aryabhatta introduced the world with the digit Zero. All of these are creations but at that time the knowledge of patenting and IPR was quite low. He mentioned about the amendments and history of patent since 1856 till 2005 along with the examples on Biopiracy. Furthermore he glorified the classification of CSIR and AYUSH. CSIR has digital library which has got certain patents cancelled worldwide having Indian origin. He strongly submitted that till date there is no formal legislation to protect the Traditional Knowledge of the people. The Intellectual Property Organisation which administers International Intellectual properties in all countries has laid formal guidelines for protecting genetic resource and traditional knowledge. Till date 40 sessions are conducted to address this concern by this organisation. After the conclusion of Dr. K. S. Kardam informative inaugral speech, the First Session commenced wherein the faculty member Ms. Nisha Dhanraj Dewani while introducing Dr. Claudia Masoni who was from Italy, worked as a field researcher in many projects relating to traditional knowledge, appreciated her for her contribution of her chapter in her upcoming book on 'Protection of IPR and Traditional Knowledge' having USA Publication.

Dr. Claudia mentioned that traditional ecological knowledge is a body of knowledge built by a group of people through generations living in close contact with the nature it includes the system of classification a set of empirical observations about the local environment and the system of self management that governs resource use. She further mentioned that sustainable development is the economic development conducted without the depletion of natural resources. Further she discussed about bio piracy that it is the unauthorised commercial use of biological resources for associated traditional knowledge from developing countries or from the indigenous communities are the patenting of various inventions based on traditional economic knowledge without prior informed consent and benefit sharing. She stressed upon the eligibility for patents is the Novelty, non obviousness and its utility. Along with the same, she put in discussion the laws like Article 27.3 (b) of the TRIPs agreement, Article 8 of convention on biological diversity, Article 31 of the UN declaration on the rights of indigenous peoples and Article 15 of international Covenant on economic social and cultural rights. Dr. Claudia emphasised on defence mechanism, the active protection and secret knowledge in the context of Traditional knowledge along with the difference between the privacy and the breach of confidence. This session kept engaged students with discussions and questions.

Session II

Dr. Sunanda Bharti, Assistant Prof. from University of Delhi, chaired the session II, gave an interesting example on Traditional Knowledge including Traditional Cultural Expressions, wherein she talked about the origin of traditional knowledge, its unique features and the need to protect Traditional Knowledge. She also shared her personal experience where she lived around the Bangni Tribe in Arunachal Pradesh and how they carry out their day to day activities like agriculture, fishing, weaving, handicrafts and cooking etc. purely with natural resources and material they obtained from the forest. She also enlightened the students on the reed to protect Traditional Cultural Expressions and the problems concerning it. She stressic upon the issues like misappropriation of traditional cultural expression along with certain exceptions.

ENTREPRENEURSHIP AWARENESS PROGRAM (EAP) IN COLLABORATION WITH MINISTRY OF MSME TECHNOLOGY DEVELOPMENT CENTRE (MSME)

Date- February 17 – 28, 2020

No. of participants- 53

Over the years, Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Management Studies has taken several initiatives towards holistic development of its students. It strongly believes that its students have the potential to become the future of tomorrow by creating jobs rather than seeking jobs. MAIMS wishes to create entrepreneurs in its campus as they (entrepreneurs) are seen as national assets to be cultivated, motivated and remunerated to the greatest possible extent. Entrepreneurs can change the way we live and work. Moreover, an educational institute can play a pivot role by helping its students to bring up the entrepreneur inside them.

In tune with this focus, Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Management Studies in collaboration with Ministry of MSME Technology Development Centre (MSME) organized an Entrepreneurship Awareness Program (EAP) for 10 days in the campus for students.

Entrepreneurship Development Programme (EDP) is a programme which helps in developing the entrepreneurial abilities. The skills that are required to run a business successfully, is developed among the people through this programme. Sometimes, people may have skills but it requires polishing and incubation.

The EDP started on February 17, 2020 with an intake of 53 students from all the streams. The sessions were conducted by Mr. Aishwary Awasthi, Training Coordinator (EAP) Program and Ms Sudeepti, Faculty-cum-Trainer.

In the 10 days entrepreneurial journey, students were exposed to various topics like entrepreneurial skills, the importance of entrepreneurship, the process of entrepreneurship development and working. Students were also given a project in which they Director Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Managemet Studies Sector-22, Rohini, Delhi-86 formulate a proposal for an innovative product/service. The feasibility and further extension of the product/service was discussed in detail with Ms Sudeepti during the sessions.

This programme consisted of a structured training process to develop an individual as an entrepreneur. It helped the students in acquiring skills and necessary capabilities to play the role of an entrepreneur effectively.

Towards the end we can say that, talent is natural but skill is only developed by hours and days and months of hard work. EDP is not just a training programme but it is a complete process to make the possible transformation of an individual into an entrepreneur. This programme definitely guided our students on how to start the business and effective ways to sustain it successfully. The program has definitely uplifted the entrepreneurial spirits of our students and has motivated them to become hunters of fortunes into the future.

Ms. Pushpa Nair kick started the discussion on the basics of Corporate Communication with an informal question friendly approach. Delving into the nuances of the subject, the branding, marketing, and advertising strategy of various Indian and International brands like Amul, Apple, and Infosys were discussed by her to foster a thought-provoking environment. Ms. Nair underlining the significance of strategic communication meticulously taught students nuisances of Corporate communication through case studies and students were asked to analyse the communication and crisis management strategies of given companies. Corporate communication is all about learning the art of presenting an idea or argument lucidly. Drawing upon this fundamental, Ms. Nair discussed the communication strategies of high-end luxury brands like Rolls Royce, Mac, Lamborghini, etc. which don't indulge in advertising to create a desirability quotient.

To foster a holistic and academia-oriented approach, strategizing and brainstorming activities were conducted wherein students were divided into groups to represent different corporations. It was planned in a way to equip students with a better understanding of the subject and to hone their communication skills. This activity provided the students with a platform to discuss and gain a deeper insight into the role of a corporation munication department.

Startup Academic Meet for budding Entrepreneurs

Date: Friday, 15 February 2019

Resource Person: Mr. Shiv Kumar

Participants: 50

MAIMS and Swadeshi Start Up organized the Startup Academic Meet on 15 February, 2019. MAIMS and Swadeshi Start Up jointly conducted this meeting to apprise the budding management students about the various ways to be job providers rather than job seekers.

Start-ups are the centers of novel innovations. A total of 50 participants attended the meeting. They generate jobs, that implies more career opportunities; more employment leads to a stronger economy, and a healthier economy has a direct bearing on the growth of cities where startups locate. Budding entrepreneurs must be aware of various opportunities that they can look forward to. The Government of India has initiated several schemes such as Swadeshi startup to promote such young minds to be able to hone their entrepreneurial skills. For encouragement and for adding rigor to this meet, a sports car by a startup entrepreneur was displayed on this occasion Mr. Shiv Kumar.

environment to the industry directly. Bharat Banga, the subject matter expert from the Department of Journalism and Mass Communication of MAIMS and the coordinator of this workshop, also advised the students not to miss this opportunity. He inspired the students to take advantage of such chances where they get to know the experiences of these experts.

The subject experts Rajeev Kumar Panda and Naveen Gautam from Apeejay Institute not only shared their experiences, but also discussed every aspect of film making with the students. He not only shared the tits and bits of film making, but also encouraged the students to come forward and discuss their original ideas which they wish to work upon. The students were quite enthusiastic and came forward in large numbers. The workshop was organised for the Second and third year students of the Department of Journalism and Mass Communication. About 60 students enthusiastically participated in this two day workshop.

After the basics of film making, the students were divided into different groups and were asked to work on a original film idea. Keeping in mind the lessons learned by the experts, the students geared up to make films in their groups and left for the shoot with all the preparations. Meanwhile, the subject experts kept guiding the students by going to their respective shoot locations. Om Prakash, who was a part of the team from APJ Institute, also helped the students on the shoots throughout this tenure. After the shoot, the post production was also done by the students themselves under the supervision of experts. The final result of the process came out in the form of successful films. The experts were also very happy to see the hard work and dedication of the students.

At the end of the workshop, the films of the students were screened in front of everyone on a big screen, which received applause and appreciation from everyone. Workshop certificates were also given to the students for their hard work and dedication.

The convenor of this workshop, Bharat Banga thanked everyone from the bottom of his heart and said that he looks forward to this type of experimental workshops in future also. Head of Department Professor Vinita Gupta concluded the workshop by giving momento to the experts and congratulated everyone for this successful workshop.

As an integral part of academic curriculum, a one day workshop on Multi-Camera Production was organised at Apeejay Institute of Mass Communication, Dwarka for the students of BA (J&MC) 3rd semester students on Tuesday, September 26, 2017. Mr. Bharat Banga, Faculty, MAIMS, coordinated the entire lecture cum workshop as a part of their subject Basics of Video Camera, Light and Sound. Total of 55 students participated in the workshop.

Mr. Rajeev Panda, Assistant Professor, Apeejay Institute of Mass Communication facilitated the visit to the studio along with the series of lecture before the commencement of the workshop. During this visit students get acquainted with the technical aspects by way of handling the equipment and their industrial operations.

Mr. Panda during his lecture informed student about the pre-production techniques along with the studio work culture in multi-camera production.

The workshop begins with the division of students in groups by Prof Panda for the smooth functioning of studio production. Six groups were formed for the studio production. The topic of the Multi-Camera production was allocated according to students area of interest for group project.

Mr. N.K Suri provided on-hand training to the group about the usage of lights in studio production. This will enhance the students' skills in terms of operations of studio lighting in Multi-Camera Production.

With the advent of online editing Mr. Naveen Gautam guided the batch with the PCR operations in which students of Journalism and Mass Communication learnt about online editing, sound mixing, VTR and VTP operation.

Lastly the production was taken place by the group of students in which students participated and acted actively as an Anchor, Guests, Cameraman, Producer, Online Editor, Sound Mixer and VTR and VTP controller.

This entire workshop provided a platform for our students to get on the job practical exposure about the multi cam production which will enhance their professional skills according to the prevailing market.

Mr. Om Prakash and Mr. Mathew extended their full support during the entire workshop.
