Workshop on Live Anchoring & Event Management

Sancharika Club of the Department of Journalism and Mass Communication organized a workshop on live anchoring and Event Management to give students an exposure about the industry. The students who attended the workshop had a delightful and educational experience. The workshop was conducted by Mr. Yash Khatri, an esteemed alumnus from the batch of 2010. Yash, with his extensive experience of over 1500 shows as an Emcee nationally and internationally, generously agreed to impart his anchoring skills to the present students.

Mr. Yash Khatri is not only a source of pride for our institution but also manages his own event management company called Team Game Guru. His expertise and success in the field make him an ideal mentor for aspiring anchors and event managers.

The workshop provided a perfect blend of learning and enjoyment, allowing the students to grasp the nuances of anchoring and event management in a fun and engaging manner. The students were able to gain valuable insights and practical knowledge from Yash's first-hand experiences and expertise.

Overall, the workshop proved to be an enriching opportunity for the students, as they received guidance from a highly accomplished professional like Mr. Yash Khatri, who shared his industry knowledge and inspired them to pursue successful careers in anchoring and event management.
