Date: December 6, 2023

Time: 10.00 A.M

Venue: SEBI Office, 8th Floor, East Kidwai Nagar, New Delhi-110023

Number of Students participated: 38

Training and Placement Cell along with Department of Economics, MAIMS organized an insightful industrial visit to the SEBI, Securities and Exchange Board of India office on December 6, 2023. The event aimed to provide students with practical exposure to the functioning of SEBI and insights into the securities market.

The visit commenced promptly at 10:00 AM at the SEBI office. The students were welcomed by SEBI officials who facilitated the visit. The total number of participants were 40 including two faculty members Ms. Sakshi Gupta, Assistant Professor, Department of Economics, MAIMS and Ms. Kamna Vaid, Assistant Professor, Department of Economics, MAIMS.

The main highlight of the visit was a comprehensive presentation delivered by Ms. Richa Surange, an accomplished professional with a background in BBA finance and an MA in Financial Economics. Ms Surange currently serves as an Administrative and Establishment Officer at SEBI, with experience in policy-making and regulation and supervision departments also. The presentation commenced at 10:30 AM and began with an eye-opening video highlighting the lack of awareness among the general public regarding investments in the securities market.

Ms. Surange delved into the basics of the securities market, providing valuable insights into its various products and participants.

She elaborated on SEBI's crucial mandate, emphasizing its role in developing and regulating the securities market and protecting its investors. She then discussed the need and powers of SEBI as an individual regulatory body which allows it to make its own policies, implement them and punish whoever disobeys those laws. This contextual understanding provided students with a comprehensive grasp of SEBI's role in maintaining market integrity.

Another key aspect of the presentation involved guiding students as beginners, on how to navigate the complexities of investing in the securities market. Ms. Surange shared practical advice and essential information to empower students in making informed investment decisions.

The interactive session allowed students to pose questions and seek clarification on various aspects of the securities market. Ms. Surange's expertise and engaging presentation style ensured that the students gained a deeper understanding of the intricacies of the financial landscape.

Ms. Surange's emphasis on financial literacy and responsible investment practices contributed significantly to the educational value of the visit. She urged the students to take back insights from the visit and spread them to create awareness about investing in the money market.

Overall, the industrial visit to SEBI provided a valuable learning experience for the students of the Department of Economics at MAIMS. It not only broadened their knowledge of the securities market but also offered practical insights into the regulatory framework and the role of SEBI in fostering a robust financial ecosystem. The department expresses gratitude to SEBI and Ms. Richa Surange for facilitating this educational and enriching visit.

The emphasis on financial literacy and responsible investment practices contributed significantly to the educational value of the visit.
