On 29th January 2025, the Department of Commerce, under the leadership of Dr. Kamal Gupta and Professor Dr. Manju Gupta, the Placement Coordinators, organized an insightful CV Vetting Session. The session was aimed at helping students perfect their CVs for the competitive job market.

The event saw active participation from students of the Bcom h. department, who presented their CVs for review. The Placement Cell team, offered personalized guidance to each student. They meticulously examined the CVs, providing valuable suggestions on improving structure, content, and presentation to align with industry standards. This one-on-one assistance allowed students to understand the nuances of creating a CV that stands out to recruiters and hiring managers.

Throughout the session, students were encouraged to ask questions, which led to an engaging and productive discussion on various CV-related aspects, including highlighting key achievements, proper formatting, and tailoring the CV for specific job roles.

The session was concluded with positive feedback from both the students and faculty members. Students appreciated the hands-on approach taken by the Placement Cell team in helping them refine their CVs, making them industry-ready. The event served as a stepping stone for students, equipping them with the tools necessary to present themselves effectively in the competitive corporate world.

Let us have a glimpse of today's successful event.

The session going on with discussion on how a resume should be.
