The Internship and Placement Committee of Department of Law, Maharaja Agrasen Institute of Management Studies, organized an insightful session on Research Tools and Judgment Reading as part of Lex Week 2026. The session was conducted by Mr. Shreyas Dhamapurkar, Law Researcher to the Chief Justice of the Delhi High Court, Hon'ble Mr. Devendra Kumar Upadhyaya, who shared comprehensive and practical insights into the domain of legal research and case analysis.

The resource person elaborated on the essential aspects of effective legal research, focusing on the use of various research platforms, structured search techniques, and methods for systematically reading and understanding judgments. He explained how these tools and techniques enable law students to interpret case laws accurately and apply legal principles in a clear and analytical manner. The session offered students a structured and accessible understanding of research methodologies, combining both theoretical and practical perspectives.

Drawing from his professional experience, Mr. Dhamapurkar brought valuable expertise to the discussion. He has previously served as an Eklavya Fellow at National Law University, Delhi, and has worked as a Law Researcher with the Centre for Research and Planning at the Supreme Court of India. His experience in assisting judicial research at the highest levels added depth and practical relevance to the session.

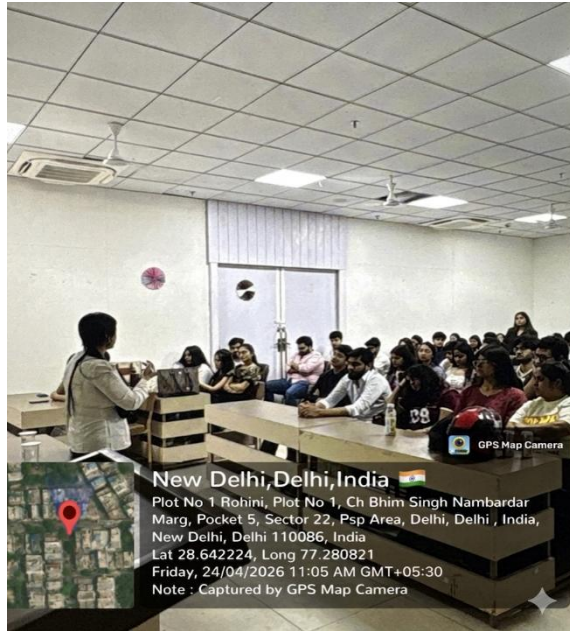

Students were guided on the nuances of legal research, including identifying relevant case laws, using appropriate keywords, and critically analyzing judgments. Emphasis was placed on developing a systematic approach to reading judgments, understanding ratios, and extracting key legal principles. The session also highlighted the importance of precision and clarity in legal analysis.

The session also included an interactive question-and-answer segment, during which students actively engaged with the speaker on various aspects of legal research and judgment interpretation. The discussion proved to be highly enlightening and provided students with meaningful exposure to essential legal skills required in academic and professional settings.

The session concluded with a vote of thanks, expressing sincere gratitude to Mr. Shreyas Dhamapurkar for his valuable insights and to the participants for their enthusiastic engagement throughout. Overall, the session proved to be highly informative and beneficial, equipping students with essential knowledge on legal research tools and judgment reading, while also contributing to their professional development.
