Career Opportunities after CFA

The Department of Commerce organized a session on Career Opportunities after CFA on 10th March 2026. The session was led by Mr. Aviral Agrawal, who serves as a University Relations Specialist in Global Partnerships and Client Solutions at the CFA Institute. Mr. Agrawal is a seasoned business development professional with a rich history in the higher education sector, excelling in outreach, communication, and strategic partnerships. Drawing on his extensive experience, he delved deeply into the value of the CFA charter in shaping a global finance career.

Mr. Agrawal started the session with an interactive quiz session, later he broke down each level of the CFA program, offering a clear roadmap of how progression through the levels not only tests one's financial acumen but also builds credibility and opens doors to prestigious roles. Throughout his talk, he illustrated how CFA charterholders develop a rare combination of analytical rigor, ethical discipline, and global market awareness, making them invaluable assets to any financial institution.

In addition, Mr. Agrawal discussed how the CFA charter serves as a personal and professional milestone, providing a structured framework for lifelong learning. He encouraged students to see the CFA not just as an exam, but as a catalyst for continuous growth, helping them adapt to new financial challenges and leadership responsibilities. By connecting CFA with broader career development, he left students with a sense of purpose, motivating them to align their professional goals with the ethical and analytical strength that the CFA represents.

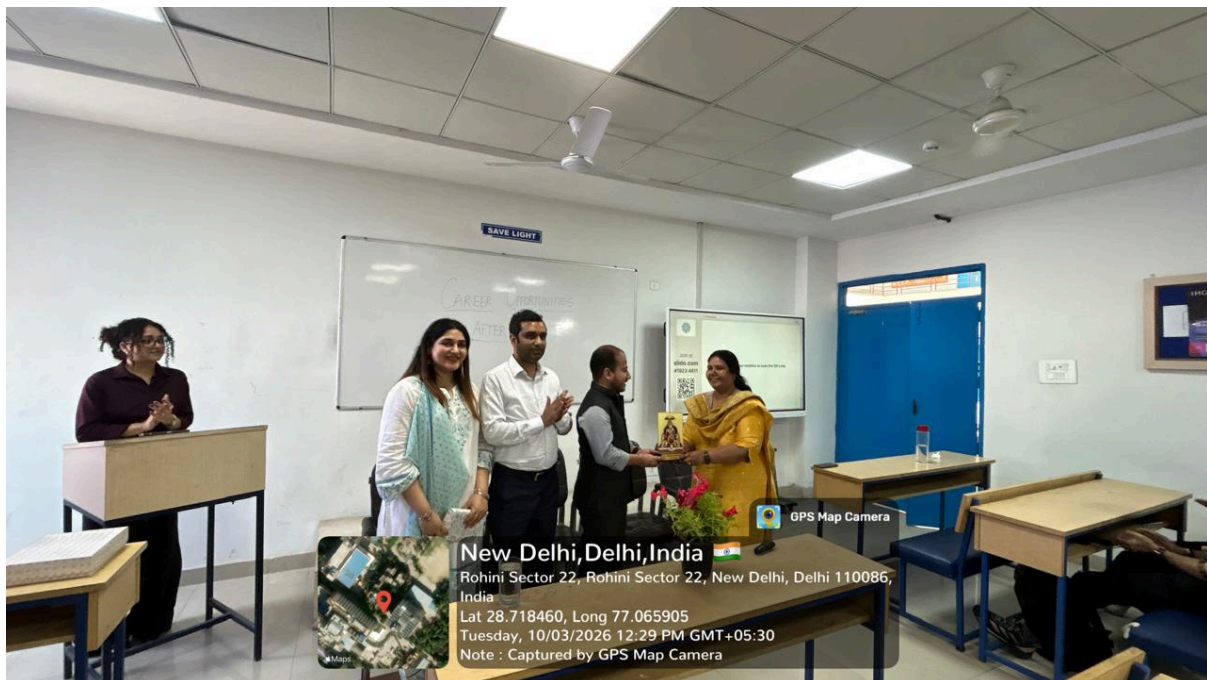

Conclusion

The session concluded with an open forum, where students had the chance to ask questions and share their aspirations. Mr. Agrawal's guidance, combined with the CFA's global reputation, gave students a renewed sense of direction, empowering them to pursue the CFA charter as a key to unlocking their future potential in finance.
