- Mrs. Priyanka Bansal – Spirituality & Career Guidance
- Dr. Swarnanil – Cultural Scholar, Educationist & Writer
- Mr. Vijay Kumar – Government Schemes & Youth Opportunities

The diverse expertise of the panelists enabled students to view youth empowerment from multiple perspectives.

Proceedings of the Event

The programme commenced with a formal welcome to the distinguished guests, panelists, faculty members and students. The opening ceremony was followed by the lighting of the ceremonial lamp and Saraswati Vandana, symbolising knowledge, wisdom and the pursuit of excellence.

The dignitaries and panelists were subsequently felicitated by the Director of MAIMS. The institutional leadership welcomed the guests and highlighted the importance of empowering young people with knowledge, skills, confidence and a sense of responsibility. By quoting the lines of Kulgeet of Maharaja Agrasen Technical Educaiton Society, the Director MAIMS, Prof. (Dr.) Rajni Malhotra Dhingra, emphasized on the philosophy of Nation First. She mentioned it as a core principle of individuals ideology towards nation.

The panel discussion then began with introductions of the speakers and their opening remarks. Each panelist shared experiences and perspectives related to youth development and the opportunities available to India's young population.

Key Areas of Discussion

The discussion highlighted several important dimensions of youth empowerment:

1. Career Opportunities and Competitive Examinations

Mr. Ankul Singh emphasised the importance of disciplined preparation, consistency, goal-setting and awareness of career opportunities available through competitive examinations.

2. Government Schemes and Youth Opportunities

Mr. Vijay Kumar discussed the importance of awareness about government initiatives, schemes and opportunities that can support young people in education, employment, entrepreneurship and personal development.

3. Travel, Exposure and Experiential Learning

Mr. Rahul Neel highlighted how travel can broaden perspectives, develop confidence and encourage young people to understand India's cultural and geographical diversity.

4. Spirituality and Career Guidance

Mrs. Priyanka Bansal addressed the importance of inner balance, self-awareness and clarity of purpose while making academic and career decisions. She encouraged students to combine professional ambition with personal well-being and values.

5. Culture, Education and Social Responsibility

Dr. Swarnanil highlighted the role of India's rich cultural heritage, education and knowledge traditions in developing confident and socially responsible young citizens.

Interaction with Students

An interactive question-and-answer session provided students with an opportunity to engage directly with the panelists. Students raised questions concerning career choices, examinations, government opportunities, personal development, spirituality, travel and their responsibilities towards the nation.

The interaction made the programme particularly engaging and enabled students to receive practical guidance from professionals with varied experiences.

Major Takeaways

The discussion conveyed that building a Viksit Bharat is not solely the responsibility of institutions or the government; it requires active participation from India's youth. The panelists encouraged students to:

- Develop a clear vision and meaningful goals.
- Acquire relevant knowledge and employability skills.
- Remain disciplined, adaptable and resilient.
- Make informed career choices.
- Explore available government schemes and opportunities.
- Preserve and appreciate India's cultural heritage.
- Maintain emotional and spiritual balance.
- Become responsible and active citizens.
- Use their education and talents for the larger good of society and the nation.

Conclusion

The panel discussion “Empowering Youth for Viksit Bharat” served as an informative and motivating platform for students to understand the opportunities, challenges and responsibilities associated with India's development journey. The diverse perspectives of the panelists helped students recognise that youth empowerment involves not only career success but also character, values, cultural awareness, social responsibility and personal growth.

The programme concluded with a note of gratitude to the distinguished panelists, institutional leadership, faculty members, NCC officials, cadets and students whose collective efforts contributed to the successful organisation of the event.

The event reinforced the message that empowered, skilled, responsible and value-driven youth can become one of the strongest foundations for a prosperous and developed India by 2047.

The event was concluded with vote of thanks given by Ms. Yanshikha Bansal, Caretaker Officer, (SW, NCC, MAIMS) and followed by Vandemataram at the end.
